3. These statistics, it will be seen by referring to the table in paragraph 1, are brought down to within a few weeks of the date of this Report, and we are thus enabled to point to a very considerable advance in the course of improvement noticed in our last Report. Thus the number of inmates of workhouses on the 19th February, 1870, is less by 2,736 than the number at the corresponding date in the preceding year 1869, and less by 5,483 than the corresponding number in 1868. At the latest date previous to the date of this Report the decrease amounted to 3,248, or 5·7 per cent. less than in 1869, and to 6,511, or 10·7 per cent. less than in 1868. Referring to the in-door diagram at page 34. it will be seen that the fluctuating line of 1869-70 has now fallen below all the former lines in the diagram, containing as it does the fluctuations of the last seven years.

4. The number of persons receiving out-door relief has increased on the other hand from 19,624 to 22,520 in the course of the fifty-two weeks comprised in the table. In paragraphs 3 and 4 of our last Report we have entered fully into the considerations which oblige us to disregard any ordinary increase or decrease of out-door relief as indicative of the state of the population, and to look exclusively to the increase or decrease of the number of inmates of workhouses. It is most probable, indeed, that as the country advances in prosperity, the out-door relief lists which have steadily increased from 655 persons daily in 1855 to 22,520 in 1870, will continue to increase subject though they are to certain limitations imposed by Statute.

5. There is one source of increase in the extent of out-door relief to which we have to refer with satisfaction. In the last Report the daily number of "orphans and deserted children out at nurse" had reached only to 689 throughout Ireland, while in the present year the number has increased to 1,207; and we have no doubt that it will continue to increase concurrently with some decrease of the same class in the workhouses. The extension of the age to which this class of children may be relieved out of the workhouse, namely, from five to ten years, which we recommended in paragraph 5 of our last Report, has been since adopted by Parliament in the Statute 32 & 33 Vic., cap. 25; and the increase of numbers above noted is in part due to that extension, and in part to the further adoption of the system by Boards of Guardians.

6. The following table exhibits the progress of the relief of "persons disabled from labour," &c., since 1857, in comparison with the other two classes for which out-relief is legalized by 1st section of 10 Vic., cap. 31.

Return showing the Number of Persons in receipt of Out-door Relief under the 1st Section of 10th Vic., cap. 31, on the last Saturday of February in each year from 1857 to 1870.

1870,	6,692	8,913	1,183	5,045	3,045	7,169	11,220	21,326

The increase of out-door relief shown in this table, viz., from 18,863 last year to 21,326, is distributed pretty equally among the three privileged classes, viz., the permanently disabled, the widows with two or more legitimate children, and the temporarily disabled by severe sickness or serious accident; and we are glad to observe that the last of the three classes has its full share of the total increase.

7. In the 6th and 7th paragraphs of the last Annual Report we mentioned the subject of the relief of tramps and vagrants and the large proportion of that class alleged in the volume entitled "Judicial Statistics, Ireland," to exist in Ireland in comparison with the same in England and Wales, and also the theory advanced that this excess was due in some measure to the limited extent of out-door relief in Ireland. For the reasons which we have already stated, and which it is unnecessary here to repeat, we continue to think that the number of tramps and vagrants in the two countries, if it has been accurately ascertained and compared, has no connexion with the more limited practice of out-door relief in this country.

As to the number of tramps and vagrants or casuals relieved in the two countries, we have had the weekly number in Ireland carefully noted since the 6th March, 1869, and we find that the average weekly number received into the Irish workhouses in the course of twelve months has been 968, and the maximum number so relieved in one day only 211. In England and Wales the number relieved in workhouses on the 1st January, 1869, was 5,346, besides 1,674 who received on the same day out-door relief.

The annexed table shows the fluctuation of this class throughout the thirteen lunar months of the year.

5th March, 1870, . . .	819	242	170	1,231	109	35	45	189

It is observable that the fluctuation follows very closely the rule prevailing in the number of workhouse inmates generally, and that the increase and decrease are equally dependent on the season of the year.

It is nowhere the practice to afford out-door relief to this class except under the provisional power of the Relieving Officer, exercised only in cases of emergency.

8. The punishment of persons offending against the Irish Vagrant Act has also claimed attention during the last year. The Circular given at page 46 of the last Annual Report recommending the prosecution of professional vagrants is supposed to have been misunderstood in a few instances, persons having been brought before Justices by a Board of Guardians or its Officers, and convicted by the Justices without proof having been given of the commission of any offence prohibited by the Vagrant Act.

The facts alluded to having been complained of were brought under our notice by Your Excellency's command, and we thereupon issued a further Circular to the Boards of Guardians on the subject which will be found in the Appendix to this Report.* The correspondence also which took place in reference to this matter will be found in the Appendix.* It is certain that since the issue of the first of the above Circulars a great additional check has been applied to the practice of persons systematically traversing the main lines of road from east to west and from north to south without any means of sustenance. Such persons in doing so must calculate on subsisting either by theft or begging, or by obtaining relief in the unions which they pass through, or by combining one of the two former modes with the last, for undoubtedly the power of obtaining with ease and impunity a night's lodging in every union workhouse affords great facilities to professional vagrants. We trust, however, that in Ireland this branch of the vagrant system has now been placed under effectual restraint.

The total number of deaths in the workhouses in the fifty-two weeks comprised in the table has been 10,968. In the corresponding table in the last Annual Report the total number of deaths was 11,449, which, compared with the present numbers, shows a decrease of 481 deaths, and a decrease of 1,291 compared with the number in the preceding year. This is a satisfactory evidence of the improved sanitary state of the country. The decrease is distributed with little distinction through the various causes specified in the table.

The number of deaths by fever is 774, in comparison with 884 in the previous year, and with 887 in the year preceding.

The number of deaths by small-pox occurring in the workhouses during the fifty-two weeks is seen to have been only 1, following upon 3 in the last year, and 5 in the preceding year. These facts, taken in connexion with the Registrar-General's Quarterly Returns, and the information supplied to us by the Medical Officers of workhouses and dispensaries, enable us to say with confidence that small-pox is scarcely any longer to be regarded as indigenous in Ireland, and that it exists occasionally only by introduction from beyond sea, for the inoculator appears to have ceased his dangerous trade altogether. The modes of introduction which experience teaches us most to apprehend are sailors arriving in Irish ports from Great Britain or the Continent, soldiers returned from furlough, tramps and vagrants crossing the Channel to change the field of their operations, and lastly, poor persons compulsorily removed to Ireland from British towns such as London, Liverpool, Glasgow, and others, where small-pox is always present. In the Medical Charities Branch of this Report the subject of small-pox will be resumed at greater length.

10. We conclude the series of recent statistics by repeating, with one additional year, the table showing the number of persons assisted by Boards of Guardians to emigrate, and the cost incurred for that purpose, in each year, that is to say, for now twenty years past, ending on the 25th March.

11. We now proceed to the statistics arising out of the audited accounts of unions for the year ended 29th September, 1869.

We deal, in the first place, with that part of the union expenditure which relates exclusively to the relief of the poor, of which the following table affords an abstract for all Ireland, for the year ended 29th September, 1869, in comparison with that for the year which ended on the same date in 1868.

Year ended 29th September.	Net Annual Value.	Poor Rate lodged.	Poor Law Relief Expenditure during the Year.						Number relieved.
			In-Maintenance and Clothing.	Out-Relief.	Cost of Relief in Work and Boarding Asylums and Return Hospitals.	Salaries and Bounties of Officers.	All other Expenses.	Total.	In Workhouse.	Out-door.	In Work and Boarding Asylums.	Total.
1869.	13,123,429	815,480	423,253	48,144	5,835	111,091	106,659	675,884	233,563	45,268	523	285,378
1868.	13,117,709	848,079	434,943	44,734	5,289	108,718	110,691	707,346	233,563	50,257	518	284,338
Increase, Decrease.	55,720	-	32,500	23,587	3,399	415	2,333	-	53,391	974	-	54,365

The total decrease of expenditure under the head of relief is £31,672, and is accounted for mainly by the decrease in the total number of persons relieved in the workhouse, viz. 53,391. The decrease of in-maintenance arising on this score, for the average weekly cost per head has varied very little, is £33,587, but there is an addition of £3,399 under the head of "Out-relief," notwithstanding an actual decrease of 974 in the total number so relieved. This is a further indication of the increased liberality in the allowances referred to in paragraph 11 in the last Report.

12. The following is a tabularized account of admissions to the Workhouse during the last year, in comparison with those of the eleven preceding years.

It is interesting to observe that, while the total number admitted in sickness during the year is less by 1,588 than in the previous year, 1,233 of this decrease is under the head of cases admitted in fever, which in 1868 were 11,209, and in 1869 only 9,976. Notwithstanding such decrease, the relative proportion which the number admitted in sickness bears to the whole is increased from 23 to 29 per cent. This increased proportion is probably due to the more extended working of the provisions of the Amendment Act of 1862, by which the poorer classes generally were admitted to medical and surgical relief in the workhouses.

14. The following is a statement of the Parliamentary grant for Medical and Educational purposes, and of its distribution in the year ended 25th March, 1869 :—

	Amount of Grant.	Amount of Claim.	Amount allowed.

The excess of the amount claimed over the grant, and over the amount allowed, arises chiefly upon increases of salary which have been made subsequently to framing the estimate for the grant.

* All sums due from Unions in Ireland under the Consolidated Arrears Act had been levied and paid over before the close of this year 1869; there will be no further sums therefore to enter under this head in future years.

Hence it will be seen that the total disbursement of poor-rates for all purposes, viz., relief, medical relief, burial grounds, registration of births, deaths, and marriages, and sanitary measures, was in 1868 £847,995, and the amount of poor-rate collected £848,070, the levy and expenditure each making a poundage of 1s. 3½d. in the pound on the valuation. In 1869 the expenditure fell to £817,772, or 1s. 2½d. in the pound, and the poor-rate collected to £815,480.

In a volume entitled "Local Taxation, Ireland," which has been laid by Her Majesty's command before Parliament, that part of the Irish local taxation for 1868 which consists of poor-rate is incorrectly stated to have been £921,807, and the poundage thereof to be 1s. 5d. in the pound on the valuation. This overstatement arises from the Parliamentary Grant having been included as part of that year's taxation. The Grant, however, is provided from Imperial Funds, and is no part of the Local Taxation of Ireland. Neither does it represent in any way the local expenditure of that year; for the Grant is practically a recoup of the expenditure in the previous year. In fact, for many years past, neither the levy of poor-rates nor the expenditure has exceeded 1s. 3½d. in the pound, and has been usually much below it. It is further to be mentioned that the return of Local Taxation in England and Wales states the Poor Law Taxation in 1868 to be £11,061,502 and that this sum excludes, as it ought to do, the Parliamentary Grant.

16. Since our last Report the subject of the removal of Irish-born persons from England to Ireland which was dwelt upon in paragraphs 15, 16, 17, and 18, of that Report, presents itself under a somewhat changed aspect, the Court of Queen's Bench in England having decided in favour of our appeal against the removal of a married woman and her children by the parish of Liverpool to the Tullamore Union, in Ireland, the husband at the time being alive. We have for many years past protested against the impolicy and inhumanity of this class of removals, resulting often in the separation against their will of the husband from the wife, and the parent from the child. The judgment of the Court, however, proceeded upon no considerations of that nature, but on the ground that the Removal Statutes have not effectually provided for such cases. In the former times of the English Poor Law, when hundreds of thousands were annually spent in the litigation of settlements a casus omissus of this nature would have attracted the attention of the Legislature, and an Act would probably have been passed to provide a remedy; but we trust that there is no danger at the present time of the practice referred to being legalized by statute. Removals of the same kind have, notwithstanding the decision, continued to take place. Recently a married woman with six children was brought from Auckland Union, in the county of Durham, to Clogher Union, in Ireland, but under threat of appeal, the Auckland Board of Guardians have consented to abandon the order and take the family back again.

A copy of the judgment of the Court of Queen's Bench in England, in the case of the Irish Poor Law Commissioners against the parish of Liverpool, will be found in the Appendix.*

17. We have next to report to Your Excellency some further correspondence with the Board of Supervision in Scotland, on the subject of the removal of dangerous lunatics from lunatic asylums in Scotland to the workhouses of unions in Ireland. The whole of this subsequent correspondence will be found in the Appendix.†

As an example of the hardship attending removals in ordinary cases under the Scotch removal law, we place in the Appendix‡ the particulars of the case of a blind man named Peter M'Ginty, recently removed by warrant against his will from Glasgow to Stranorlar. After thirty-five years industrial residence in Scotland, this poor man having applied for relief in consequence of the accidental loss of his sight, was adjudged by a very questionable construction of the law, against which there is no appeal, to have lost a right of settlement which he had once possessed in Scotland, and was forcibly removed to his place of birth in Ireland, his wife remaining at her residence near Glasgow, where they had been living together. It appears to have been considered by the removing authorities that as the wife was unwilling to accompany her husband to Ireland they were justified in removing him by warrant without her, and in this view the Board of Supervision appear to acquiesce as will be seen in the correspondence.

From recent inquiry it appears that this blind man has voluntarily discharged himself from Stranorlar Workhouse with the view of endeavouring to find his way back to his wife and friends in Scotland, but whether he has succeeded in doing so we are not informed.

18. The following is a Tabular Statement of the number of persons in the Workhouse or in the receipt of Out-door relief at any time in the course of the year ended 31st December, 1869, who were not born in Ireland.

law of removal from Ireland to Great Britain. The children included in this statement comprise many children of Irish-born parents, who have been from time to time removed from Great Britain to Ireland with their families. Under a system of complete reciprocity these children after fourteen years of age would be removable from Ireland to England or Scotland as their place of birth; just as the children of English or Scotch parents happening to be born in Ireland, but subsequently residing in Great Britain, are removable, and are sometimes actually removed to Ireland. A case in point occurred recently in Larne Union, the particulars of which will be found in the Appendix.*

19. We have further to observe in connexion with the subject of Lunatic removals from Scotland to Ireland, that there are few Lunatic Asylums in Ireland which do not contain Lunatics born in Great Britain, the Colonies, or in Continental countries, who are treated to recovery or permanently maintained as incurable at the charge of Irish County Cess. In the Dublin Richmond Asylum alone there were thirteen such cases admitted in the course of the year 1869, nearly all natives of Great Britain; and the same institution contains several such inmates who have been there for many, in one case for 40, years.

There are at present seven Lunatics, natives of Scotland, in the Irish Lunatic Asylums.

We trust that we have in this Report and in former Reports drawn attention to the subject of removals from Great Britain to Ireland sufficiently to ensure redress.

20. We must not omit from this part of our Report some reference to the facts already specially reported by us to Your Excellency, as having occurred in the harbours of Cork and Londonderry, in the landing of lunatics from time to time by steamers both of the Cunard and Inman Lines, who have been shipped from the United States for the purpose apparently of being transferred to Ireland for their future care and maintenance.

The explanation of the agents appears to be that the parties are brought on board without any notice of their mental state, which shows itself after leaving port, and these poor people having tickets paid for to Cork or Londonderry, are there put on shore in a helpless state, sometimes in batches of four or five together, and left to shift for themselves.

A more minute description of these cases will be found in the Appendix.†

The correspondence which took place on this subject through the intervention of the Foreign Office and the Board of Trade did not elicit any satisfactory explanation or assurance for the future, but we are glad to be enabled to report that since our last complaint in October, 1869, no further occurrences of that kind have come to our knowledge.

PROCEEDINGS under the MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT, IRELAND (14th & 15th Vic., cap. 68); the Act of 1858, "To make further provision for the practice of Vaccination in Ireland;" and the Act of 1863, "To further extend and make compulsory the practice of Vaccination in Ireland."

21. We shall next proceed to submit to Your Excellency the Report of our proceedings under the above mentioned Acts for the last year.

In the following table is given a summary of the relief afforded under the Medical Charities Act for each of the last ten years, ended respectively on the 30th of September, in each province, and in the whole of Ireland. As usual, the two classes of cases, those prescribed for at the dispensaries and those of a more serious nature in which the patients were attended at their own homes, are distinguished by being registered in distinct columns.

If we compare the figures in this summary for the last two years in the table, we find that in Ulster and Leinster there has been an increase for the latter year of the number of cases receiving medical relief among both dispensary and domiciliary patients, viz: in Ulster, an increase of 2,925 dispensary cases, and of 5,937 of those attended at the patients' homes; and in Leinster, an increase of 2,080 of the former, and of 3,996 of the latter class of cases. In the other two provinces there has also been an increase for the last year in the number of domiciliary cases, amounting to 1,330 for Munster, and 1,329 for Connaught, but in each of these provinces there has been a decrease in the number of cases relieved at the dispensaries, amounting to 8,523 cases in Munster, and to 1,556 in Connaught. The totals for all Ireland show a decrease of 5,074 cases at the dispensaries, and an increase of 12,642 domiciliary cases. This is the reverse of what we had occasion to remark in the comparison similar to this in last year's Report, in which there appeared a considerable diminution of domiciliary cases (8,525) and a considerable increase of cases attended at the dispensaries (11,882) for the then last year compared with the year before. This difference would seem to indicate the prevalence of a greater amount of serious ailments amongst the poor in the past than in the preceding year.

The usual detail of the medical relief afforded during the last year in each dispensary district in Ireland, as required by the 20th section of the Medical Charities Act, will be found in the appendix.*

22. The expenditure arising on Dispensary Medical Relief for each of the last ten years ended September the 29th, is given in the next table, for each province and for all Ireland, including, since 1859, the fees to Dispensary Medical Officers for successful vaccination, and the other expenses attendant upon it.

This table shows for the year ended September the 29th, 1869, compared with year before, an increased expenditure under the Medical Charities and Vaccination Acts, amounting to £1,735, considerably less than the corresponding increase on a similar comparison mentioned in last year's Report, viz., £3,865. The increase of expenditure falls nearly equally on Ulster and Connaught, viz., £606 and £690, respectively. Leinster contributes but £223 to the increase, and Munster £216.

23. The following table presents a comparative statement for the two last years ended September 29th, of the items of this expenditure arranged under the usual six heads.

Expenses under the Medical Charities Act, &c., year ended 29th September:—

	1868.	1869.
1. Medicines and medical appliances,	£21,904	£22,492
2. Rent of Dispensary buildings,	7,498	7,417
3. Books, forms, stationery, printing, and advertising,	1,268	1,390
4. Salaries of { Medical Officers,	74,232	75,499
{ Apothecaries,	2,232	2,222
5. Fuel, porters, and incidental expenses,	8,585	8,086

Expenses under Vaccination Act:—

6. Vaccination fees and other expenses:—
Fees to Medical Officers,	5,812}	6,466	5,981}
Other expenses,	654}		641}
		£121,983	£123,716

Nearly the whole of the increased expenditure for the last year has occurred under the heads of Salaries of Medical Officers, and Medicines and Medical Appliances, viz., £1,267 and £588, respectively. The increase under the latter head corresponds to, and follows necessarily from, the considerable increase of domiciliary cases for the year, the treatment of which is more expensive than that of the less serious cases treated at the dispensaries. Of the other items, Books, Forms, &c., and Vaccination Expenses, show an inconsiderable increase, viz., £114 and £156, respectively, and Rent of Dispensary Buildings, Salaries of Apothecaries, and Fuel, Porters, &c., an inconsiderable decrease, viz., £81, £10, and £299, respectively.

* This amount, £121,983, is the total expenditure for the year 1868. The smaller amount shown in page 19 of the Report, arises from a credit of £19 having been given in the case of Glenties Union for an overcharge in a previous year.

The average poundage on the Poor Law Valuation of Ireland, now amounting to £13,153,499, to provide for this expenditure was 2-26*d*., which is very slightly higher than that of the year before, viz., 2-23*d*..

24. Alterations of dispensary districts have been made in three cases only during the past year. In the Belfast Union, the Belfast and Shankhill Dispensary districts have been united to form one district. In the Ballyshannon Union, as originally divided into dispensary districts, the exceptionally small district of Ballintra was formed of one electoral division, with the intention that it should be placed in charge of the Medical Officer of a neighbouring dispensary district in the Donegal Union. This arrangement not proving satisfactory, the Ballintra was added to the Ballyshannon Dispensary district; but it was soon found that the great size and population of the new Ballyshannon Dispensary district, together with the great distance of the Ballintra Electoral Division from the residence of the Medical Officer at Ballyshannon, deprived this part of the dispensary district, in great measure, of the benefit of the Medical Charities Act.

It was therefore thought advisable to revert to the original arrangement with some improvements; and, accordingly, the Ballintra and Cavan Garden Electoral Divisions have been formed into a dispensary district with a separate Medical Officer, who is to reside within the district.

The new arrangements just mentioned have involved the appointment of two additional Medical Officers, one for the new Belfast Dispensary district, which has now ten Medical Officers, and one for the new Ballintra district.

Complaint having been made to us of the inadequate arrangement existing for Medical Relief for the sick poor in Erriff and Bundoragha Electoral Divisions of Westport Union, and in the Electoral Division of Letterbrickaun in Oughterard Union, we have made arrangements for the establishment of an additional dispensary at Lenane, at the head of Killeries Harbour. This is effected by requiring the Oughterard Guardians to appoint a second Medical Officer for the Cloonbur district, containing Letterbrickaun, who shall reside at Lenane in the latter district, and by requiring the Louishurgh and Westport Dispensary Committees to appoint an additional Medical Officer to take charge of Bundoragha and Erriff respectively; these additional duties to be confided to one and the same Medical Officer resident at Lenane.

In a similar case of complaint arising in Castlebar Union, a different course is contemplated as best suited to the circumstances of that case, which is to transfer the two Electoral Divisions of Ballynagoraher and Addergoole from Castlebar Union to Ballina Union, and to incorporate them with the Crossmolina Dispensary District, detaching Ardagh, Fortland, and Rathema Divisions; and further, taking from Badlina Dispensary District the Electoral Divisions of Ardnaree North and Ardnaree South, Attymas East and Attymas West, Kilgarvan, and Sallymount, and adding in lieu the Electoral Divisions taken from Crossmolina District, the Divisions taken from Ballina District being formed into a new Dispensary District.

25. Since our last Report we have very willingly approved the appointment of skilled midwives in nineteen additional Dispensary Districts, in one of which, the Sligo District, two of these very useful appointments have been made.

26. Since the passing of the Act, in the last session of Parliament, extending the benefits of the superannuation of Irish Poor Law Officers to the Medical Officers of Dispensaries and Workhouses, notwithstanding that they may not have devoted the whole of their time to the discharge of their public duties, the Medical Officers of twelve Dispensary Districts and of four Workhouses have already availed themselves of the privilege bestowed upon them by the indulgence of the Legislature. In every one of these cases it may be safely assumed that the Medical Officer was completely disabled by broken health or by advanced age from the efficient performance of his duties, and that therefore the appointment of young and active men in the stead of the Superannuated Officers will be attended with great benefit to the sick poor of the respective Districts and Workhouses.

27. The next Table sets forth the progress of the Vaccination of the Poor in Ireland for the seventeen years from the enactment of the Medical Charities Act till September, 1869.

The inspection of the figures in this Table for the last five years, during which Compulsory Vaccination has been in force, shows that since the very large increase of vaccination in the first of these years (1864-65), there has been an annual decline in the total number of cases of successful vaccination, with the exception of the year 1868. For the year ended September 30th, 1869, there appears again a decrease in the total number of vaccinations, amounting to 5,754 cases, of which 5,053 arise among persons not liable to Compulsory Vaccination, and only 701 among children born since January, 1864. The decrease upon the former class of cases has taken place uniformly each year since 1864, and was to be expected, because arising upon a number of persons continuously diminishing by death, emigration, and the number of persons vaccinated each year who were born before 1864. But any decrease of infant vaccinations, or even a check to their progressive increase is greatly to be lamented.

28. The next table presents a summary of the progress of vaccination in each province, and in all Ireland, for the five years ended September 30th, 1869, during the whole of which the Compulsory Vaccination Act has been in full operation, distinguishing the infant vaccinations from those of persons exempt from the compulsory provisions of the Act.

The above-mentioned decrease of vaccinations among persons not coming under the Compulsory Vaccination Act (5,053 cases) is of little consequence; and, indeed, is the smallest of the annual diminutions which have uniformly taken place on this class of cases since 1864. The decline, on the other hand, in the total number of infant vaccinations should be regarded with very great concern. On referring to the summary in the above table of this class of cases for each Province, it appears that there has been for the last, compared with the previous year, an increase in the number of infant vaccinations in Munster of 779 cases; in Leinster, of 112; and in Connaught, of 50. The whole of the decrease therefore belongs to Ulster, and amounts to 1,642 cases. This state of things, not only as regards the decrease of infant vaccination in Ulster, but the inadequacy of the increase in the other Provinces is highly unsatisfactory, and should stimulate every person and every authority responsible for carrying out the excellent provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act—the Dispensary Medical Officers, the Dispensary Committees, the Boards of Guardians, the Magistrates, and the Commissioners—to increased exertions and unceasing vigilance, for the attainment of that end. No relaxation of exertion for this purpose should be permitted while the number of annual infant vaccinations falls short materially of the number of annual births. The population of Ireland was estimated in the middle of last year at 5,536,217, which, on the assumption of one birth for 31 of the population, would give 178,587 births for that year. Making a deduction from this number on account of deaths of infants under six months of age, and on account of infants vaccinated by private practitioners, the number of vaccinations by Dispensary Medical Officers ought to have been something about 150,000, if all the children born in the year and proper subjects for gratuitous vaccination had been vaccinated. But the above Return gives 117,912 as the number of infant vaccinations for 1869; and it must be recollected that a certain number of these were vaccinations of children born in the years ended September 30th, 1865-'66, '67, and '68. To prevent the addition of successive cases, year by year, to the fuel thus provided for small-pox, in the event of the epidemic influence of that most fatal and most infectious disease visiting us, as it has long done, at short intervals, affords a powerful motive to use every effort to render the vaccination of all liable to the Compulsory Vaccination Act as complete as possible.

29. Another powerful motive to the same purpose is furnished by the almost incredible success which has attended the operation of the Compulsory Vaccination Act in the near approach to the suppression of small-pox in Ireland by its means. The success actually attained affords a strong incentive to exertion, with the view of sustaining and completing it. The following tables, the same as those given in last year's Report, with the addition of the latest returns we have received, of the annual number of deaths from small-pox in the workhouses, of the number of cases of that disease treated by the Dispensary Medical Officers in the year ended September 30, 1869, and of the Registrar-General's Return of deaths from small-pox during 1869, afford the most gratifying and conclusive proof that the astonishing success reported last year has been fully maintained.

REGISTRAR-GENERAL'S RETURNS.

DEATHS from SMALL-POX registered in IRELAND, during dates undermentioned.

Year.	1st Quarter.	2nd Quarter.	3rd Quarter.	4th Quarter.	TOTAL.

1867	7	5	4	4	20
1868	6	9	3	1	19
1869	8	9	2	1	20

It appears from these tables that there was but one death from small-pox in the workhouses for the year ended February 5, 1870, against three in the year before; that the number of cases of small-pox treated by the Dispensary Medical Officers during the year ended September 30, 1869, was only 27, against 155 in the year before; and that the deaths from small-pox registered during 1869 were 20, one more than the number registered for 1868. This decrease in the number of deaths from small-pox in the workhouses, and this very great diminution in the number of cases of the disease treated by the Dispensary Medical Officers, afford the most satisfactory evidence of advance towards the extinction of small-pox in Ireland. That there has been no corresponding decrease of registered deaths from this disease was to have been expected. Indeed, we should have been neither surprised nor disheartened if there had been some considerable increase of deaths from this cause. In last year's Report we expressed in paragraph 34 our extreme regret to have to report a recent outbreak of small-pox in the Castlebar Union, clearly traceable to very culpable negligence on the part of the Board of Guardians, and the Magistrates in refusing to adopt the measures provided by the Legislature for enforcing the Compulsory Vaccination Act, and to the operations of a notorious inoculator. This outbreak resulted in 67 cases of small-pox and 4 deaths in a few weeks and in a limited district of the union; and it will be found, on inspection of the following table, kindly furnished at our request by the Registrar-General, that of the 20 deaths from small-pox registered during the year 1869, no less than 8, or more than a third of the deaths from this cause in all Ireland, occurred in the Union of Castlebar.

WILLIAM DONNELLY, Registrar-General.

General Register Office, Dublin, 19th February, 1870.

In this table it may be observed that 5 of the cases are registered as varicella or chicken-pox, not certified, that is, uncertified by any Medical Practitioner. As, however, there is considerable external resemblance between varicella and small-pox, and the former is a mild disease seldom proving fatal, it is highly probable that all of them were really cases of small-pox. On the other hand it may well be doubted whether in the cases of Catherine Joyce, Rose Anne M'Minigal, Thomas Taggart, also uncertified, death was caused by small-pox. In the case of Bridget M'Hugh, aged five months, registered as vaccinated, it was ascertained by our Medical Inspector, Dr. Roughan, from the mother of the child, that she had not been vaccinated; and in the case of Siven Yohanson, our Inspector, Mr. Robinson, having made inquiry respecting it at our request, ascertained that the case was not indigenous, that the young man was a sailor on board a vessel from Sweden which had touched at no port from the time of leaving that country till it arrived here, and that he died four days after his admission into the Hardwicke Hospital, Dublin, where he was sent the day after his arrival at this port. We have also just learned from our Inspector, Dr. Knox, that in the case of Margaret Lowry death was caused by rubeola (measles), registered by clerical error variola (small-pox). Thus the corrected number of deaths from small-pox during 1869 is reduced to 18.

30. After careful consideration of the dispensary regulations in force last year, and after receiving and maturely considering the observations of our Inspectors, suggesting at our desire such alterations as their experience led them to recommend, we issued in December last, as authorized by the 12th section of the Medical Charities Act, and by the Act to make further provision for the practice of Vaccination in Ireland, revised and amended general rules and regulations for the management of dispensaries, and for carrying out vaccination under the Medical Charities and different Vaccination Acts.*

Although the alterations adopted in the revised regulations are neither numerous nor great, we have yet good hopes that they will considerably facilitate the performance of their duties by the Guardians, Committees of Management, and the Medical and other Officers acting under them.

The general rules and regulations previously in force were contained in five General Orders. These are now consolidated, and the regulations so arranged as to convey clearly, in one view, to the authorities and officers affected by them, information respecting the duties prescribed by the revised rules.

It is obviously of great importance that the proper objects of dispensary relief in every district should be kept well informed as to the manner in which, and the persons from whom, they can procure the right to receive the services of the Medical Officers, either at the dispensary or at their own homes. To this end the committees of management were required by the superseded regulations to have notice boards placed on the dispensaries, and placards posted at convenient places through the district, conveying the requisite information. It was found, however, in practice that this duty was in many instances very irregularly and imperfectly performed. It was therefore thought advisable to transfer this duty to a responsible officer; and accordingly, the clerk of each union is required by the new regulations, on the completion of the committee in each year, to prepare a notice giving full information respecting the names and residences of the persons authorized to issue tickets for medical relief, the names and residences of the Medical Officers, the days and hours of their attendances at each dispensary and dispensary station, and of their attendances at the times appointed by the committees at the vaccination stations, and all other particulars of the dispensary arrangements necessary for affording to the poor due facilities for procuring dispensary relief or vaccination. The clerk of the union is also required to see that the notice board, setting forth the name and residence of the Medical Officer, the days and hours of his attendance for the treatment of dispensary patients, and for the performance of gratuitous vaccination, is kept conspicuously affixed on the exterior of the dispensary.

Owing to irregularity in the meetings of the committees of management, inconvenience and delay had not unfrequently occurred under the late regulations, which required that the Medical Officer's requisitions for medicines and medical appliances should be forwarded to the Boards of Guardians with the approval of the committee. The Medical Officers are now authorized, in case of urgency, or delay caused by failure of committees to meet, to forward their requisitions direct to the Board of Guardians.

With a view to promote the effectual operation of the Compulsory Vaccination Act, the Medical Officers are required to forward every half-year, a list of all the children whose births but not their vaccination, if more than six months of age, have been registered in their districts. On receipt of these lists it will be the duty of the Boards of Guardians, after ascertaining through their Relieving Officers or otherwise the cases in which reasonable excuses for omission can be pleaded, to take proceedings in all other cases against the parents or persons in charge of the children and responsible for the default.

A new form of Medical Relief Register, which had been for some time in use, and by which the amount of clerk-duty imposed on the Medical Officers is materially lessened, is required to be kept in all cases after January 1st, 1870; and a change in regard to the registration of cases of successful vaccination has been adopted, by which a similar diminution of clerk-work is procured to all Medical Officers who have undertaken the duties of Registrars of Births and Deaths; that is a large majority of the dispensary Medical Officers.

A new regulation provides that, except in cases of sudden urgency, no medicines or medical appliances shall be furnished without the presentation of a ticket issued by some of the persons authorized to do so. The object of this change was to obviate an abuse which had arisen, and not unfrequently existed, by which the Medical Officers received and treated applicants with medicines and appliances provided at the public cost, at their own discretion, and without the authorization required by the 9th section of the Medical Charities Act.

Lastly, some important changes in the Medical Relief Visiting Tickets, and the instructions for their use printed on them, have been made, in the expectation of securing more prompt attendance on cases visited at their own homes, by the delivery of the tickets to the Medical Officer as soon as practicable after the issue of the ticket, and by the removal of all restriction on the responsibility of the Medical Officer for attendance on the patient as soon as practicable after presentation of the ticket:

DEPARTMENTAL ARRANGEMENTS.

31. In paragraphs 37 and 38 of our last Annual Report we drew your Excellency's attention to the useful operation of the Act 31 and 32 Vict., c. 74, whereby the Poor Law Inspectors and Medical Inspectors in Ireland were equally empowered to act under all the statutes the provisions of which are administered to any extent under the central control of this department. Our subsequent experience has confirmed the view which we then took of the great benefit of this arrangement to the public, under which we have been enabled to divide the whole country into eleven nearly equal districts for the purposes of inspection. We observed at the same time that the additional duty imposed upon both classes of Inspectors had considerably increased their personal expenses, for which they receive a fixed annual allowance, and recommended a reconsideration of their scale of salaries, so as to place them upon a footing more nearly approaching to that of Poor Law Inspectors in England.

Some further correspondence which has since taken place on that subject we shall include in the Appendix to this Report.*

The ordinary labours of the Inspectors have been recently interrupted to some extent by special inquiries, undertaken by the desire of Government, having an important bearing on the Land Measure now under the consideration of the Legislature, and their Reports thereon have by Her Majesty's command been laid before both Houses of Parliament.

We have the honour to be,

Your Excellency's obedient, faithful servants,

A. POWER,
C. P. FORTESCUE,
T. H. BURKE,
J. M'DONNELL, M.D.
R. M. BELLEW.

APPENDIX A.

CIRCULARS OF INSTRUCTION AND CORRESPONDENCE UNDER THE POOR LAW ACTS.

I.—CIRCULARS.

No. 1.—ALLEGED MORTALITY AMONG CHILDREN IN WORK- HOUSES.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
29th May, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland observe in the Irish Times newspaper of yesterday and to-day editorial articles on the Bill now before Parliament to extend the limits of age from five to ten years in the cases of children put out to nurse from the workhouses in Ireland, containing the following statements:—

"The great mortality of young children in workhouses has led to the introduction of this Bill."—Irish Times, May 28, 1869.

"Scrofula and diseases of the eyes have increased to such an extent that it is not very easy now to find a workhouse girl sound and healthy enough to send to service."—Irish Times, May 29, 1869.

As no personal authority is given for these statements, and as they are applied to Irish workhouses generally, the Commissioners see no other way of counteracting their mischievous tendency than that of giving each Board of Guardians and their medical officer an opportunity of seeing the statements and of expressing, as they may see fit, their views and experiences on the subject.

In doing this the Commissioners are influenced mainly by two considerations.

In the first place, published statements of this nature are calculated seriously to injure the future prospects in life of young persons brought up in workhouses, which rest in a very material degree on public opinion as to their capability of becoming good and useful servants if taken into service at an early age. At present there is reason to believe that the demand for the services of workhouse boys and girls is universal throughout the country.

Secondly, the Commissioners are in favour of the object of the Bill now before Parliament, relating to very young children in workhouses who are without parents; but they think it right, at the same time, to repudiate such grounds as those which are now put forth in advocacy of that measure, and which they believe to be untenable.

In order, therefore, to establish a true understanding of the general sanitary condition of the children between five and fifteen years of age in the Irish workhouses, the Commissioners request the Guardians will direct their Medical Officer's attention to the statements above referred to, and obtain a report from him upon the subject.

The report of the Medical Officer should be accompanied by a statistical return in the form annexed, showing the actual mortality among workhouse children between the ages of five and fifteen, and the amount of eye disease or scrofula, during the year ended 25th March last, distinguishing the cases of illness and disease existing on admission to the workhouse from the cases originating therein.

This return should be made with the least possible delay, in order that it may be available at once for the information of Parliament, if moved for.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

NO. 2.—ALLEGED MORTALITY AMONG CHILDREN IN WORKHOUSES.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
13th August, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have received and caused to be tabulated the returns obtained from unions in Ireland as to the alleged excessive mortality of children in workhouses and prevalence of ophthalmic and scrofulous diseases among them.

These questions arose in connexion with the Bill lately introduced into Parliament to extend the age for keeping orphan or deserted children at nurse from five to ten years, public statements having been made to the effect that such a measure was felt to be necessary in order to rescue children over five years of age from the injury caused to their health and physical condition by their residence in the workhouse. The statements referred to are quoted in the Commissioners' Circular of the 29th May last.

The workhouse children being, without doubt, as a general rule, taken from the lowest and most indigent class of the population, would naturally bring with them into the workhouse the seeds of disease and death in a greater proportion than that in which the same would be found in the infant population at large; but, with the exception of a few of the large town unions, the present returns exhibit a remarkably low rate of mortality in the class in question.

For example, there are no less than 42 unions, presenting a total number of children between five and fifteen years of age amounting to 6,343 relieved in the course of the year, and a daily average number of 1,750, in which no death occurred at all.

Again, 44 unions, presenting 9,724 children relieved in the course of the year, and an average daily number of 2,405, supply only one death in each union, or 44 deaths in all.

Again, there are 26 unions with 5,757 cases relieved in the course of the year, and an average daily number of 1,633, which return two deaths in the year in each union.

Thus, of 163 unions 42 present no deaths, 44 only one death each, and 26 only two deaths each; these unions constituting two-thirds of the whole number of unions, and comprising 21,824 children, or one-half of the number relieved.

The deaths in the remaining unions are in greater proportion, but the whole number relieved in the year was 43,129, the average daily number, 11,649, and the total number of deaths in the year, 409; giving a percentage of less than one death on the total number relieved, and a percentage of $3\frac{1}{2}$ on the average daily number.

Again, of the 409 who died, 249 were admitted in sickness.

The rate of mortality, therefore, in the great bulk of the unions must be pronounced to have been extremely small, and taken in the aggregate, not higher than might be expected from institutions resorted to as hospitals to so great an extent as is the case with the Irish workhouses.

With regard to that branch of the returns which relates to ophthalmia and scrofulous disease, there are few workhouses altogether free from these evils, nor could they reasonably be expected to be so.

Among the 43,129 children relieved in the course of the year, 2,949 cases of ophthalmia or scrofula have occurred. Of those 2,949 cases 795 had the disease developed at the time of admission; and it may fairly be assumed that a large proportion of the remaining 2,154 cases brought with them the seeds of disease, which afterwards developed into ophthalmia or scrofula.

The Reports of the workhouse Medical Officers on this subject will probably appear in the Appendix to the next Annual Report of the Commissioners. It is sufficient to mention here that these officers repudiate emphatically the alleged excessive mortality and the general prevalence of ophthalmia and scrofula among the children under their charge.

It may be well to add that the object really aimed at by the Bill in question, which has now become an Act, was to give children sent out to nurse a better chance of being permanently domiciled with the persons to whom they were given in charge, and so to prevent more surely their return to the workhouse, as pointed out in the Annual Reports of the Commissioners for 1867 and 1869 respectively.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

NO. 3.—RELIEF TO ORPHAN AND DESERTED CHILDREN.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

26th July, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you herewith, for the information of the Board of Guardians, a copy of an Act (32 and 33 Vic., cap. 25), which received the Royal assent on the 12th instant, by which the provisions of the 9th sec. of the Act 25 and 26 Vic., cap. 83, are repealed, and in lieu thereof the Guardians are empowered to provide for the relief of any orphan or deserted child out of the workhouse, if they shall think fit to do so, by placing such child out at nurse, according to their discretion, provided that no child shall be placed out with any person who does not profess the same religion as that in which the child has been registered, and that no child shall continue to be so relieved after the age of ten years.

The Guardians will observe that the only changes made in the law, as previously existing, by this enactment, are—

1. That children of the class referred to may now be relieved out of the workhouse up to the age of ten years, instead of eight years, as heretofore.
2. That the consent of the Commissioners is not now required in order to enable the Guardians to continue the relief after the age of five years.

These changes do not in any way affect the General Regulations of the Commissioners, dated the 10th October, 1862,* relating to the relief of orphan and deserted children out of the workhouse, which therefore remain in force, and are as applicable to cases of relief under the new enactment as they were to cases under the Act of 1862.

* See Annual Report for 1863, page 27.

The Commissioners desire, at the same time, to observe, that having regard to the more advanced age to which children may now be allowed to remain out at nurse, it is of increased importance that precise arrangements should be made and maintained for the education of those who are of sufficient age to attend school, and the Commissioners recommend this point to the special consideration of the Board of Guardians.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 4.—PENALTIES ON GUARDIANS WHO ARE CONCERNED IN WORKHOUSE CONTRACTS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
12th August, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you herewith, for the information of the Board of Guardians, a copy of an Act (32 and 33 Vic., c. 54), which received the Royal assent on the 2nd instant, amending the provisions of the 93rd sec. of the Irish Poor Relief Act, which render Guardians liable to penalties if concerned in supplying goods for the use of the workhouse.

It will be observed that the changes made by this Act in the provisions of the section referred to are the following:—

1. No action for the penalty imposed by that section can be commenced or prosecuted by any person, except the Commissioners, without the consent in writing of the Chairman of Quarter Sessions.
2. In any action for the penalty brought before the passing of the Act, the defendant may apply to the Court or to any Judge of the superior courts, to discontinue the action on payment of costs.
3. In any action for the penalty, brought by any person except the Commissioners, in which a verdict is given for the plaintiff, the Judge may, if he think fit, reduce the penalty to any sum not less than £25.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 5.—MEDICAL OFFICERS' SUPERANNUATION ACT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
12th August, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you herewith, for the information of the Board of Guardians, a copy of an Act (32 & 33 Vic., c. 50), which received the Royal Assent on the 2nd instant, to provide for Superannuation Allowances to Medical Officers of Unions and Dispensary Districts.

Under the provisions of this Act, Boards of Guardians can, with the consent of the Commissioners, grant Superannuation Allowances to Workhouse and Dispensary Medical Officers, in the same way as they can grant such allowances to other Union Officers under the Union Officers' Superannuation Act, notwithstanding that such Medical Officers may not have devoted their whole time to the service of the Union.

In any case in which the Guardians may propose to grant a Superannuation Allowance to a Medical Officer, the same Notice must be given, and the same particulars furnished to the Commissioners, as in the case of any other Officer, as explained in the Commissioners' Circular Letter of the 31st October, 1865, printed in their Annual Report for 1866, page 32.

By Order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

NO. 6.—PROSECUTIONS for VAGRANCY.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
5th November, 1869.

SIR,

Adverting to their Circular Letter of the 28th November, 1868, relating to the Prosecution of Vagrants, which was published at page 46 of their last Annual Report, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have had it brought under their notice, by command of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, that since the issue of that Circular some improper convictions have taken place under the provisions of the Vagrant Act, 10 & 11 Vic., cap. 84, sec. 3.

The offence especially alluded to in that Circular was defined therein in the terms of the Act of Parliament, and printed in italics, as follows :—

"Going from the Union in which he had been resident to some other Union for the purpose of obtaining relief."

It is alleged that the Guardians have in some cases caused persons who had received a night's lodging in the Workhouse to be prosecuted on the sole ground that they were strangers in the Union and had applied for and obtained relief.

That such facts do not by themselves constitute the offence in question is very clear. It should be shown to the satisfaction of the Magistrates that the person complained of has come from some other Union in which he had been resident, and that he left that other Union for the purpose of obtaining relief in the Union in which he is prosecuted.

Generally the commission of this offence will be found peculiar to professional Tramps and Vagrants, whose intention to obtain relief in particular Unions will be presumed not only from their coming there and applying for relief and obtaining it, but from other circumstances known regarding them personally, and regarding the places which they have come from and the places which they are going to.

The Guardians ought to distinguish, and require their Officers to distinguish, between this class of cases and those cases in which the applicant for relief has been overtaken by misfortune or want while passing through the country on lawful business, having had no intention when quitting the Union in which he was previously resident of applying for relief in the Union in which he subsequently was overtaken by misfortune and received relief.

The Commissioners request that in future prosecutions under the Vagrant Act this distinction will be carefully attended to by the Guardians and their Officers.

By Order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 7.—POLITICAL DISCUSSIONS at BOARDS of GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

17th December, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland observe on their copy of the Minutes of the Guardians of North Dublin Union of the 15th instant a Resolution passed in the following terms :—

"That abscotism being the giant evil of this country, the Board of Guardians of this Union will call upon the Prime Minister of England to grant a Royal Residence and a National Parliament, as the only legitimate remedy for the pauperism and wide-spread disaffection which exists. That the said Board protests against the suspension of the Constitution, or the return to the hateful system of governing Ireland by setting one class against the other, and the substitution of Acts of Parliament for the material benefits to which she is entitled. That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the various Poor Law Unions with a view to united action and hearty co-operation."

The Commissioners lose no time in stating to the Guardians of Unions in Ireland their opinion that the form of proceeding in question is open to grave objection, inviting, as it does, the united action and co-operation of Boards of Guardians in Ireland in pressing on the Prime Minister the adoption of a peculiar line of policy in the government of the country.

The Commissioners have never opposed themselves to the adoption of Petitions by Boards of Guardians addressed to either House of Parliament on subjects connected, even remotely, with the relief of the poor or their social condition; but the introduction of general politics into a Union Board-room, avowedly for the purpose of political agitation, as in the present instance, is a proceeding so entirely foreign to the business of relieving the Poor, and so likely to interfere with the proper conduct of that business, that the Commissioners feel obliged to express their disapproval of it; and they trust that the Guardians will decline to entertain the proposal which the North Dublin Board have addressed to them on the subject.

By Order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of the Union.

i.—REPORT from Mr. BODKIN, R.M.
COUNTY OF TIPPERARY.

Tipperary, 16th October, 1869.

I feel compelled to submit the following query for the Law Adviser's opinion:—

Under the Vagrancy Act—10th and 11th Vict. c. 84—does the mere fact of a stranger asking and obtaining relief from the Relieving Officer justify a conviction?

There was no proof of begging, or of relief having been given in any other district.

Since I came to this district, there have been several such convictions, and one or two under very painful circumstances, when respectable looking mechanics were sentenced to imprisonment with hard labour for one month, and merely for having received one night's lodging in the Workhouse.

At the Petty Sessions held here on the 7th of this month, two men were thus convicted, and each sentenced to a month's imprisonment with hard labour. I annex a copy of the information on which this conviction was grounded—I and one other Magistrate objected, and I even called the attention of the magistrates to the strange fact in this case, that they first give a poor man relief, and they then punish him for having received it.

The Chairman of the Union, who was on the Bench, stated that the Guardians had received a circular from the Poor Law Commissioners, which interpreted the law in his favour and against my view.

I might further ask is it legal or seemly for Guardians to hear, and convict in cases when they are actually the Prosecutors or Complainants?

PETTY SESSIONS OF TIPPERARY, COUNTY OF TIPPERARY.

The Board of Guardians of Tipperary Poor Law Union, complainants.

Patrick Carroll and John Murphy, defendants.

The Information of Michael Kirby of Tipperary, in the parish of Tipperary, in said county, relieving officer, who saith on oath as follows:—that I am Relieving Officer of the Tipperary Union, and that on the evening of the 6th instant, Patrick Carroll who stated he is from Limerick, and John Murphy, who states he is from Waterford, applied to me for admission Tickets to the Tipperary Union Workhouse; I refused them, and stated that if I gave them tickets I should prosecute them, but that if they persisted I would give them; they took the tickets, and did thereby become a burthen on the Tipperary Union.

And the said Informant binds himself to attend at the next Petty Sessions to be held at Tipperary, to prosecute the said Information for said offence, otherwise to forfeit to the Crown the sum of £1.

iii.—FURTHER REPORT from Mr. BODKIN, R.M.

COUNTY OF TIPPERARY.

Tipperary, 22nd October, 1869.

In compliance with minute A, on annexed file, I append the circular referred to.

Again on yesterday a poor man was sentenced to a month's imprisonment, under circumstances similar to those already referred to. In fact he was convicted upon his own statement, that he was a stranger to this Union, and he received neither warning nor caution, previous to his being asked the question whence he came.

D. G. BODKIN, R.M.

The Chief or Under Secretary,
The Castle, Dublin.

iv.—COPY, LAW ADVISER'S OPINION on the foregoing REPORTS.

The convicting magistrates have not taken a correct view of the law. The 10 and 11 Vict., c. 84, sec. 3, enumerates 3 classes of offence:—

1. Anyone wandering abroad and begging.
2. Anyone placing himself in any public place, street, &c., to beg or gather alms.
3. Causing, procuring, or encouraging any child or children to do so.
4. Everyone who having been resident in one Union shall go from such union to another union; or from one electoral or relief district to another, for the purpose of obtaining relief in the last mentioned Union or District.

The gist of the offence described in the 4th class, is the motive or object with which the person goes from the one place to the other. The mere fact of a non-resident soliciting, or obtaining poor law relief in any union or district, is not the offence contemplated by the statute. The offence is the going from one union or district to another union or district for the purpose of obtaining relief in such last mentioned union or district. The magistrates appear to have overlooked this distinction, and to have been misled by the circular of the Poor Law Commissioners, 28th November, 1868. The result is that no distinction is taken between the vagrant beggar by profession, and a person overtaken by misfortune or want while passing through the country on lawful business.

No. 2.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the CLERK of TIPPERARY UNION.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
2nd November, 1869.

Sir,

The conviction of Patrick Carroll and John Murphy at the Tipperary Petty Sessions on the 7th ult., and of another person, whose name is unknown, on the 21st ult. having been brought under the notice of the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, the Commissioners are desirous of addressing the Board of Guardians at their next meeting on the 9th inst., and in the meantime they request you will be so good as to obtain from the relieving officer, or from any other sources of information, a statement of the particulars of the facts laid before the magistrates on each of these occasions, as affecting the parties convicted, and of the grounds on which it was presumed that they came into Tipperary Union for the purpose of obtaining relief there.

The Commissioners also wish to be informed whether it is known from what union they came into Tipperary Union, and under what circumstances; and, having been now discharged, as the Commissioners are informed, whether it is known where they went, and what were their avocations respectively.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk, Tipperary Union.

No. 3.—LETTER from the CLERK of TIPPERARY UNION to the COMMISSIONERS.

Board Room, Tipperary Union,

GENTLEMEN,

4th November, 1869.

In reply to your letter of the 2nd inst., No. 27610/69, relative to the conviction of Patrick Carroll and John Murphy, at the Tipperary Petty Sessions, on the 7th ultimo, and also of another whose name is unknown, on the 21st ult., and requesting to be informed of the facts laid before the Magistrates on each of these occasions, affecting the parties convicted, &c.

I beg respectfully to inform you, that on questioning the Relieving Officer (Mr. Kirby), he states there were no facts laid before them by him, beyond what appears in his "Application and Report Book," copies of which I annex, except the Workhouse Master proving they got food and lodging in the Workhouse. I believe, however, the Relieving Officer lodged a short information in each case. Their being now discharged from Clonmel gaol, I have no opportunity of ascertaining where they proceeded to. I may add that the name of the party referred to as unknown, and who was convicted on the 21st ult., is "John Kelly."

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient Servant,

W. B. REARDON, Clerk of Union.

No. 4.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the UNDER-SECRETARY of HIS EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

8th November, 1869.

SIR,
The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have received the file of papers relating to the recent conviction tions of certain persons at the Tipperary Petty Sessions, under the provisions of the Vagrant Act, 10 and 11 Vic., c. 84, which were sent to them by direction of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, for their information and report.

From the statements of the Resident Magistrate, and from the contents of the copy of an Information sworn by the Relieving Officer in two of these cases, it would appear that the Guardians of Tipperary Union and their Officers have not understood the nature of the offence to which their attention was called by the Circular of the Commissioners of the 28th November, 1868, which offence was, however, clearly designated in that circular, not only by the use of the language in which it is defined by the statute, viz., the act of "going from one union, in which he had been resident, to another, for the purpose of obtaining relief," but likewise in the following paragraph in the circular:—

"In reference to the fourth of the offences above mentioned, the Commissioners are informed that in some localities convicts have taken place of persons going without means of subsistence from one union to another, on the presumption that in doing so they go from one union to another for the purpose of obtaining relief in the latter."

As it is possible that the Guardians of other Unions, besides those of Tipperary Union, may be under similar misapprehension, the Commissioners have issued a further circular to all unions, in order to guard against any possible application by them of a prosecution under the Vagrant Act, to persons who have committed no offence created by that statute.

A copy of this circular is sent herewith.*

With regard to the allegation that the Magistrates at Tipperary Petty Sessions have been misled by the circular of the 28th November last, the Commissioners desire to observe in the first place, that the Magistrates ought not to have permitted themselves to be misled by any document issued by the Commissioners, who, they must be aware, have no authority whatever in regard to the administration of justice in the Petty Sessions Courts or elsewhere.

Further, the Commissioners do not think there is anything in that circular calculated to mislead either the Magistrates or the Guardians, so as to cause the prosecution and conviction of persons not guilty of any offence under the statute.

The passages to which this allegation appears to relate, in addition to the one already quoted, are the following:—

"It is well to observe that the enforcement of the provisions of the Vagrant Act does not necessarily involve a refusal of relief. On the contrary, the application for, and obtaining of relief will be material elements in the case of a prosecution, for the fourth offence above specified.

"If, therefore, a night-lodger be known to have offended against the Act, and the offence can be proved, the Master of the Workhouse, or the Relieving Officer can, on his taking his discharge from the Workhouse, apprehend and take him before a Justice, or deliver him over to the police as provided in section 4, if the Guardians shall see fit to give directions to that effect."

The Resident Magistrate who dissented from the convictions at Tipperary, regards it as "a strange thing," that the Guardians should "first give a poor man relief," and then seek to "punish him for having received it."

Regarding the matter in this light, he naturally complains of the statement in the circular that the "enforcement of the Vagrant Act does not necessarily involve a refusal of relief." But it is a principle observed in the administration of the Irish Poor Law that relief is to be afforded to the actually destitute under any circumstances—that is to say, whether the destitution arise from accident or misfortune, or from the fault of the applicant himself, or has been incurred by him voluntarily, or, finally, when the party seeking or obtaining relief becomes guilty thereby of an offence against the law.

* See Circular of 5th November, 1869, page 39.

Similarly, under the English vagrant law, a person who has been removed to his place of settlement commits an act of vagrancy by returning to the place from which he was removed and again becoming chargeable there.

If that provision of the Irish Vagrant Act which is now in question appears to be a severe one, it must be borne in mind that there is no law of settlement and removal in Ireland affording redress in those cases in which a destitute person of his own will removes from one union to another, thereby transferring the burthen of his maintenance from the former to the latter, and that this part of the Act was probably intended to restrain, not only the professional mendicant class, but also destitute persons, not of that class, from the practice referred to; but it was not intended, so far as the Commissioners are aware, that relief should be refused in such cases to persons actually destitute though offending against the law.

With regard to the expression that "the application for and obtaining of relief will be material elements in the case of prosecution for the fourth offence," the Commissioners will only observe that in passing from one union to another the intention of the party to apply for and obtain relief in the latter must be presumed from his acts and from his language as in other cases where motive or intention is the gist of the offence.

Unless he actually applies for and obtains relief, there would be nothing to support the presumption that he intended to do so on his coming into the union. Such facts, therefore, appear to the Commissioners to be "material elements" in the case for a prosecution.

The Commissioners trust that after this explanation it will not appear that there is any ground for supposing that the language used in the circular of the 28th November last was calculated to mislead either the Guardians or the Magistrates.

It may be right to mention that, in the case of John Kelly, which is one of those complained of by the resident Magistrate, the Commissioners have not seen the information sworn by the Relieving Officer, but they are informed that John Kelly, the night before his application for relief at Tipperary, was an inmate of the Limerick Workhouse, and slept there.

This was not therefore the case of a stranger overtaken by want in Tipperary Union, but that of a person who went from Limerick to Tipperary, a distance of twenty-five miles, in a state of destitution, and might reasonably be presumed to have gone from the one union into the other, intending to apply for relief in the latter.

The file of papers is returned herewith.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To T. H. Burke, esq., &c., &c., Dublin Castle.

No. 5.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS of TIPPERARY UNION.
CONVICTIONS FOR VAGRANCY.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
8th November, 1869.

SIR,
The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to inform the Board of Guardians of Tipperary Union that their circular of the 5th inst.* relating to prosecutions under the Vagrant Act, of which a copy has already been sent to the Guardians, was occasioned by a communication from the Chief Secretary's Office relating to the cases of Patrick Carroll, John Murphy, and John Kelly, who were convicted on the prosecution of the Guardians at Tipperary Petty Sessions—the two former on the 7th October last, and the other on the 21st of that month.

The information sworn by the Relieving Officer against Patrick Carroll and John Murphy has been seen by the Commissioners, and they regret that the Guardians or their Officers should have so far misunderstood the circular of the 28th November last, as to have brought these persons before the magistrates on an information which did not allege any offence against the Vagrant Act, inasmuch as the facts stated therein were quite consistent with the supposition that the men were strangers overtaken by want in passing through Tipperary on lawful business.

The Commissioners need not here repeat the terms of their recent circular, or do more than draw the particular attention of the Guardians to the directions therein as to the course to be observed in future cases. They must at the same time state that there was nothing in the former circular, as it appears to them, calculated to create misapprehension.

As regards the case of John Kelly, convicted on the 21st October, the Commissioners have not seen any copy of the information in that case, but they have been informed by you that John Kelly slept in the Limerick Workhouse the night before he made application for relief at Tipperary. This, therefore, was not the case of a stranger overtaken by want in Tipperary Union, but that of a person who went from Limerick to Tipperary in a state of destitution, and might in the opinion of the Commissioners reasonably be presumed to have gone from one union to the other, intending to apply for relief in the latter.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk, Tipperary Union.

III.—COPY OF THE JUDGMENT OF THE COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH (ENGLAND) IN THE CASE OF THE REMOVAL OF ELIZABETH KEATING (A MARRIED WOMAN), AND HER CHILDREN FROM LIVERPOOL TO THE TULLAMORE UNION.

Westminster Hall,

Monday, 13th December, 1869.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

The Poor Law Commissioners of Ireland v. The Vestry of Liverpool.
Transcript from the shorthand notes of Messrs. Hurst, Corfield, and Hurst, of the Judgment.

Lord Chief Justice Cockburn.—In the case of the Commissioners for administering the Poor Laws in Ireland, appellants, and the select Vestry of Liverpool, respondents, heard before myself, my brother Lush, my brother Hannen, and my late brother Hayes, I have now to read the Judgment of the Court.

This was a case stated by consent under the statute the 12th & 13th of Victoria, chapter 45, upon an appeal against an Order or Warrant, made by two Justices of the Peace for the borough of Liverpool, on the 21st of May, 1868, for the removal of Elizabeth Keating and her two children from the parish of Liverpool, where they had become chargeable, to the Union of Tullamore in Ireland, the birth-place of the said Elizabeth Keating.

The pauper Elizabeth Keating was the wife of one John Keating, who was an Irishman. Neither of them had acquired any settlement in England. The children were the issue of the marriage, and were both born in Ireland; they were infants and unemancipated, one being aged thirteen and the other two years.

At the time when Elizabeth Keating and the children became chargeable, and also at the time of the making of the warrant of removal and of executing it, John Keating was not living in the parish of Liverpool. He had some time previously deserted his wife, and was living at Hull in Yorkshire, but the respondents did not then know where he was or where he could be found.

He was consequently not summoned or brought before the removing magistrates, nor does it appear from the examination, warrant of removal, or any statement in the case, that inquiry was made as to him or as to his place of birth. In point of fact, he was not born in Tullamore, nor had he resided there for three years. Under the circumstances it was contended, on behalf of the appellants, that the warrant of removal of the wife and the two children to Tullamore, the place of the wife's birth, was invalid and ought not to have been granted, and we are of that opinion. The statute under which the removal of Irish paupers is now regulated, is the 8th & 9th of Victoria, chapter 117, as amended by the 10th & 11th of Victoria, chapter 33, the 24th & 25th of Victoria, chapter 76, and the 26th & 27th of Victoria, chapter 89. The material clause is the second section of the first-mentioned statute. The language of the statute according to its plain, natural meaning, appears to require that where there is a husband as well as a wife and children liable to be removed, they are all to be removed together.

With regard to the place to which the removal is to be made, by the fourth section of the 8th & 9th of Victoria, chapter 117, the Justices of a county or borough were empowered to make regulations for the removal of "such poor persons and their wives and children;" but this section is now repealed, and by statute 24th & 25th of Victoria, chapter 2, the warrant of removal was required to contain, amongst other things, the name of the place in Ireland, where the removing Justices shall find such poor person to have been born or to have last resided for three years; and a copy of the warrant was thereby required to be given to the person or the "head of the family," about to be removed by virtue of it. This shows that the Legislature intended that where there was a head of the family, the removal was to be to his or her place of birth or place of residence, and the 26th & 27th of Victoria, chapter 89, which makes further regulations concerning these removals, gives the right of appeal to the Poor Law Commissioners of Ireland, and prescribes the particular form of warrant used in this case.

No provision is made in any of those statutes, or in any of the former statutes which were repealed by the first section of the 8th & 9th of Victoria, chapter 117, where a woman has been deserted by her husband, for her being removed without him, or being removed to any other place than the husband's settlement if he were living, and upon a review of the statutes, and the decisions upon them, we think that such a case is left unprovided for.

In Rex v. Cottingham in the 7th Barnwell and Cresswell, page 616, which case arose on the construction of a former Act, the 59th of George III., chapter 12, which is now repealed, but which in its enactments closely resembled the 8th & 9th of Victoria, chapter 117, section 2, it was held that the wife of an Irishman who had no settlement in England, and had deserted her, might be removed without him to her own maiden settlement, which rested on her desertion by her husband; but it was there laid down by Bayley, Justice, in delivering the judgment of the Court, that the statute of the 59th of George III., chapter 12, section 83, which in this respect is undistinguishable from the present, did not authorize the removal of the wife alone to the place of birth of her husband, and that as the husband, having quitted the parish, could not be removed to Ireland, so the wife could not be removed there without him, and that the case was therefore not within the Act.

It had been previously held in the case of Rex v. the Inhabitants of Leeds, in the fourth Barnwall and Alderson, page 498, that the wife and unemancipated children of a Scotchman, who had not deserted his wife but was living with her, cannot even with his consent be removed to her maiden settlement, but that all were removable with the husband to Scotland. In Rex v. All Saints, Derby, in the 19th Law Journal, Magistrates' Cases, page 14, the question of the construction of the present Act arose in the case of the children of an Irish father by an Irish mother. The mother had died, and the children had been deserted by the father. It was there decided that they were removable to the parish of their birth in England, and not to Ireland, under the second section of the statute. Coleridge, Justice, there laid down that, according to the Act, the father must be dealt with as the subject of removal, and Wightman, Justice, said that the statute for the purpose of removal "applied directly" to the father only, and to the children not otherwise than incidentally as a part of his family, and that if the father cannot be removed, there is no power of removing the child. Coleridge, Justice, also observed that the section might mean that, if the father was summoned, the order might be made at the time and place named, whether he appeared or not, or at any time when he did come; and that if he was absent, service of the summons upon him must be shown, so that at all events the proceeding should relate to him.

This case, which recognised the previous case of Rex v. Cottingham, appears to make it clear that the wife and children could not be removed except with the father, and, at all events, as a part of the father's family, and in a proceeding having reference to him; and therefore; at all events, a warrant of removal which ignores the father and the father's place of birth, and removes to that of the mother, must be considered as unwarranted by the statute.

The subsequent case of Rex v. Much Hoole, in the 17th Queen's Bench, page 548, and Regina v. St. Giles Cripplegate, in the 17th Queen's Bench, page 636, are substantially in accordance with the cases previously mentioned, as showing that neither a wife deserted by her husband (an Irishman), nor a daughter, though unemancipated and becoming chargeable in a different parish from that in which her parents, who were Irish, without a settlement, resided can be removed to Ireland under the statute now in question, and as we have had no instance brought to our notice of such a removal having been made, and have been unable to discover any such case, we consider that this order of removal, ought to be reversed as illegal, and that the Respondents should, according to the 7th section of the 26th & 27th of Victoria, chapter 89, pay the expenses of the preliminary inquiry and appeal, and also those of maintaining the persons removed, and of conveying them back to Liverpool.

Of course I can only deliver this as the judgment of my brother Lush, my brother Hannen, and myself; but I may add, as showing the perfect unanimity of opinion existing amongst all those who heard the discussion, that the judgment which I have just read, was drawn by my poor brother Hayes before his death.

SIR, Edinburgh, 16th December, 1869.

I have been instructed to remove to their native parishes a number of Irish paupers at present chargeable here, and I am ordered by the Board of Supervision, with the view of avoiding the risk of sending the paupers to a union to which they do not belong, to apply to you for the necessary information as to the union in which the parish or place of birth is situated. I accordingly subjoin a list of the places specified by the paupers as their birth parishes, and will be obliged by your stating the unions in which these places are situated.

No. 2.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the INSPECTOR of the POOR of the CITY PARISH, EDINBURGH.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
18th December, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 16th inst. forwarding a list of twenty-one cases in which persons at present chargeable to the City Parish, Edinburgh, are about to be removed to Ireland, and requesting to be informed of the unions in which their places of birth, as given in the list, are respectively situate.

In reply, the Commissioners desire to state that they regret to learn that the Poor Law authorities of Edinburgh contemplate the compulsory removal to Ireland, under the Scotch Poor Law, of the large number of persons or families indicated in your letter.

The power of removal from England and Scotland to Ireland, unaccompanied as it is by any reciprocal power of removal from Ireland to Great Britain, is regarded by the Commissioners, in common with all subjects of Her Majesty in Ireland, as a very great injustice to Ireland, and has been repeatedly characterized as such in the official Reports of the Commissioners to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, with a view to obtain an amendment of the law.

Recent cases of a shocking nature in which, under the Removal Law of Scotland, dangerous lunatics have been taken out of lunatic asylums in Scotland and removed in irons to workhouses in Ireland, have caused an aggravation of the sense of injustice referred to, and it is not impossible that the list submitted may include some cases of that description.

Under these circumstances, the Commissioners must decline to take any part in assisting the Poor Law authorities of Edinburgh in the deportation of persons receiving relief in Edinburgh to the shores of Ireland, or to any union therein.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To G. Greig, esq.,
Inspector of Poor, City Parish Chambers,
12, Lauriston-lane, Edinburgh.

No. 3.—LETTER from the GENERAL BOARD of LUNACY, EDINBURGH, to the COMMISSIONERS.

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh,
23rd December, 1869.

SIR,

The attention of the Board has been drawn to a letter addressed by you, as Chief Clerk of the Poor Law Commissioners of Ireland, to Mr. Greig, Inspector of the Poor of the City Parish of Edinburgh, in which the following passage occurs :—

“Recent cases of a shocking nature, in which, under the Removal Law of Scotland, dangerous lunatics have been taken out of lunatic asylums in Scotland and removed in irons to workhouses in Ireland, have caused an aggravation of the sense of injustice referred to, and it is not impossible that the list submitted may include some cases of that description.”

As you are aware, the removal of pauper lunatics from Scotland to Ireland is conducted under the provisions of the Poor Law; but as the removal of dangerous lunatics from asylums is a violation of the Lunacy Laws, the Commissioners of this Board are desirous to institute an investigation into the cases to which your letter refers.

I am, therefore, directed to request that you will have the goodness to furnish me with the names of all the dangerous lunatics who have been removed in irons from Scotland to Irish workhouses, with the date of their removal, and the names of the asylums out of which they were taken.

I have the honour to be, Sir, your most obedient servant,

WILLIAM J. BATT, for the Secretary.

B. Banks, esq.,
Poor Law Commissioners' Office, Dublin.

No. 4.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the GENERAL BOARD of LUNACY, EDINBURGH.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
4th January, 1870.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of Mr. Batt's letter of the 23rd ult., in which, referring to a letter recently addressed by the Commissioners to the Inspector of the Poor of the City Parish of Edinburgh, he requests to be furnished with the names of all the dangerous lunatics who have been removed in irons from Scotland to Irish workhouses, the date of their removal, and the names of the asylums out of which they were taken.

In reply, the Commissioners desire to state that they fear it would not now be practicable to procure a complete list of all the cases in which dangerous lunatics have been removed from Scotland to Ireland under the Scotch Poor Law Acts, as it is only in cases where complaints are made by the Boards of Guardians of Unions to which they are removed, or where it appears on the face of the proceedings that there has been any unusual hardship or irregularity, that full particulars are obtained by the Commissioners. The following cases, however, appear to the Commissioners to be specially deserving of notice, and will probably be sufficient for the object which the Board of Lunacy have in view :—

1. John Cassidy, a lunatic, removed with his wife and children from Barony Parish, Glasgow, to the workhouse of Dungannon Union, under warrant dated 3rd October, 1868. The particulars of this case are detailed in the Commissioners' last Annual Report (a copy of which is enclosed), pages 25 and 26, and appendix, pages 64 to 71.

The following description of the case is given in a letter addressed by the Removing Officer to the Inspector of Barony Parish on the 16th November, 1868 :—

"On the 1st day of September, 1868, I proceeded to Calton Police Office with a medical certificate of emergency to remove him to Gartnavel Asylum. When on my way he violently attacked me in a lonesome part of the road, and nearly strangled me. He would have succeeded in doing so but for the timely assistance of two strong men, matross, who secured him, and after he was secured he said all he wanted was just two minutes more to finish me. With their assistance I took him to Gartnavel Asylum.

"On the 5th day of October, 1868, accompanied by the Head Keeper from Barnhill Poorhouse Asylum, I proceeded to Gartnavel with Sheriff's warrant to remove him to Dungannon, Ireland. I had him handcuffed before I removed him, knowing him to be dangerous. I did this in order that he would not injure himself or others. I was also cautioned by one of the Gartnavel Medical Officers before leaving to watch him very close, and also by the Head Keeper there. On our passage from Glasgow to Belfast, his wife several times requested me not to take the handcuffs off him. She said she was afraid if he got loose he would do harm to her or some of the children."

This letter was forwarded on the same date by the Inspector of the Poor to the Board of Supervision, with other documents, and a letter in which he stated that the proceedings were conform to law and order ; that he could not see any ground for the complaint of hardship of the Irish authorities, unless it were the using of manacles ; and that the man was a lunatic, and a very violent and dangerous one, too, when he was removed.

In forwarding the letters and documents above mentioned to the Commissioners, the Secretary to the Board of Supervision intimated that the Board did not see any irregularity in the proceedings.

2. Peter O'Donnell.—This man was removed from Barony Parish, Glasgow, under warrant dated 22nd June last, but the removal does not appear to have been effected until the latter end of September.

From the correspondence which the Commissioners have had in reference to this case, it appears that Peter O'Donnell had been a soldier, that he was convicted of desertion at a court-martial held at Aldershot in August, 1863, and sentenced to four years' penal servitude, that while undergoing his sentence he became insane, and was removed to Broadmoor Criminal Lunatic Asylum on the 19th January, 1864, whence he was removed on the expiration of his sentence to the Hants County Lunatic Asylum, from which institution he was subsequently discharged, and returned to his mother, who was living at Stranorlar, in Ireland, which is stated to be his native place. From Stranorlar he went to Glasgow, where he was apprehended on the 2nd March last, and, being found insane, was sent to the Barnhill Poorhouse Asylum, from whence, as the Commissioners understand, he was removed, on the recommendation of the Board of Supervision, to Ireland.

That the Poor Law authorities in Scotland considered this man dangerous, appears from the fact that before the removal they entered into correspondence with the Commissioners, with special reference to his case, and it will be seen by the correspondence, a copy of which is enclosed, that he was known to have homicidal tendencies, and the Inspector of the Poor expressly requested that measures might be taken to prevent his being let loose after his removal to Ireland. On his removal he was accompanied by a keeper and a medical officer, and the account given of him by the latter to the officers of Strabane Workhouse is as follows:—

"The Medical Officer described said Peter O'Donnell as a most dangerous lunatic, convicted of the homicide of his officer in the army, and sentenced to seven years' penal servitude, and subsequently arrested by the Constabulary at Glasgow for threatening the life of the Secretary of State—that the Master would find him most dangerous."

It will be observed that the Commissioners did not fail to point out that if he should be removed to a workhouse in Ireland, though the workhouse master would be bound to admit him, the Board of Guardians had no power under which they could detain him against his will. The Scotch authorities, however, persisted in removing him; and it will be seen that shortly after his removal he demanded his discharge, and has been since living with his mother in Stranorlar. The Commissioners understand that he has not, since his arrival in Ireland, done anything which would justify his arrest as a dangerous lunatic; but they believe that he is being watched by the police. They are aware also that shortly after his removal to Ireland he addressed a threatening letter to Dr. Manley, the Medical Officer of the Hants County Lunatic Asylum.

The following are cases of the removal of dangerous lunatics from Scotland to Ireland, but it is not known how far restraint may have been used in the process of removal:—

3. Mary Stewart, removed from Barony Parish, Glasgow, to Donegal Workhouse, under warrant dated 6th October, 1868.

The Commissioners are not aware whether this woman was in a lunatic asylum in Scotland, and the only particulars they have regarding her are contained in the Report made by the Master of the Workhouse a few days after her removal, in which he stated that she was a confirmed lunatic, that she had become very cross, and that the wardwomen were afraid of her, and suggested that steps should be taken to have her removed to the County Lunatic Asylum, which was accordingly done.

4. Catherine McGowan, a dangerous lunatic, was removed from Falkirk to the Workhouse of Manorhamilton Union on the 14th February, 1868, and on the 17th of that month the Medical Officer of the Workhouse found it necessary to have her removed to the County Lunatic Asylum. It is not known whether she had been in a lunatic asylum in Scotland.

5. William Little, with his wife (Agnes Templeton) and one child, were removed from Dundonald to Newtownards, under warrant dated 3rd January, 1868. It is stated that the man became chargeable in consequence of the insanity of his wife, who is described in the medical certificate which accompanied the warrant as "decidedly insane, suicidal, and inclined to be violent to children." It does not appear, however, that she had been an inmate of an asylum. The family took their discharge from the workhouse immediately after the removal, and returned to Scotland.

6. Robert Caldwell was removed from Barony Parish to Antrim in the month of November last. This man was described by the Inspector of the poor as a dangerous lunatic, and it was stated that he had been kept at the charge of the parish for two years in the hope of cure. It is presumed therefore, that he was in an asylum. On his arrival in Ireland he was taken before the magistrates by the workhouse officers at Antrim, and, on the evidence of the Scotch Removing Officer, was committed as a dangerous lunatic.

The Commissioners have submitted the latter cases, although the patients were not, so far as they are aware, removed in irons, but because they infer from another part of your letter that these cases also have occurred in violation of the lunacy laws in Scotland, in so far as any of them may have been removed from lunatic asylums in Scotland.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Secretary,
General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh.

NO. 5.—LETTER from the BOARD of SUPERVISION for RELIEF of the POOR in SCOTLAND to the COMMISSIONERS.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh,
7th January, 1870.

SIR,

I am directed by the Board of Supervision for Relief of the Poor in Scotland to transmit, for the purpose of being laid before the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, the accompanying copy letter, dated the 22nd ultimo, from the Inspector of Poor in the parish of Edinburgh, with reference to his letter to you of the 16th ultimo, and your reply of the 18th ultimo.

The Board desire to bring to the recollection of the Commissioners your letter to this Board of the 4th February last, complaining of the removal from Scotland of Julia Churchill to Galway Union Workhouse instead of Clifden Union Workhouse, and your letter of the 19th July last, complaining of the removal of Mary Johnston or Miller to Enniskillen Union Workhouse instead of Irvinestown Union Workhouse.

It appeared upon inquiry that in both these cases the Scotch authorities had acted in good faith, and that the mistake entirely arose from their being unacquainted with, and having no means in this country of ascertaining, the precise limits of the Irish unions referred to. In my letter to you dated the 12th March last the Board expressed their regret that a miscarriage should have occurred, and informed the Commissioners that they would take every means in their power to prevent the recurrence of such a mistake. In my subsequent letter of the 27th August last the Commissioners were informed that the Board had resolved to alter the forms of petition for removal, so as to guard as far as possible against such cases in future.

Accordingly, the Board framed, and on the 27th October last issued to all Inspectors of Poor in Scotland the accompanying circular and amended forms for cases of removal, by which it is now required that the union in which the pauper was born or last resided for three years should be distinctly specified, and the removal made to that union alone. And as it was obvious that cases might arise in which no satisfactory information could be obtained in Scotland as to the union in which the place of birth or last residence is situated, the Board suggested that inquiry upon that point might be addressed to the Poor Law Board, London, and the Poor Law Commissioners, Dublin.

The Inspector of Edinburgh's letter to the Commissioners of the 16th ultimo was written in compliance with the Board's suggestion above referred to, and the Board are disposed to think that the circumstances which led to that suggestion must have escaped the attention of the Commissioners when they directed a reply to be made in terms of your letter to the Inspector of Edinburgh of the 18th ultimo.

In their communications to this Board of 4th February and 19th July, 1869, the Commissioners complained of the hardship inflicted by misdirected removals both upon Irish unions and upon the paupers removed. The Board of Supervision were anxious to do the utmost in their power to prevent the recurrence of such hardships in future, and they entertained no doubt that the Commissioners would be ready to co-operate with them in this matter. It cannot be expected that the parochial authorities in Scotland either themselves possess or can obtain from the paupers accurate information as to the union in which every parish or township in Ireland is situated, and the Board are not aware of any mode in which this information can be authoritatively obtained except from the Commissioners. If the Commissioners decline to afford information to the Scotch parochial authorities upon a matter of fact necessary to insure properly directed removals, it appears to the Board that the responsibility for any further misdirected removals to Ireland must rest with the Commissioners, and not with the Poor Law authorities in this country.

With regard to the reciprocal power of removal from Ireland to Great Britain which the Commissioners desiderate, the Board have to assure the Commissioners that they have never been unwilling that such a power should be conferred upon Irish Guardians, and they are not aware that it has ever been objected to by any parochial Board in Scotland.

In your letter of the 18th ult., to the Inspector of Edinburgh, you advert to "recent cases of a shocking nature, in which, under the Removal Law of Scotland, dangerous lunatics have been taken out of lunatic asylums in Scotland and removed in irons to workhouses in Ireland." With reference to this statement, the Board have to observe that no such cases have been brought to their notice by the Commissioners or Irish Guardians. But they will be ready to investigate any such cases, the particulars of which may be furnished to them.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

JOHN SKELTON, Secretary.

R. Banks, esq., Chief Clerk,
Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin.

COPY LETTER from the INSPECTOR of the POOR referred to in the foregoing LETTER.

City Parish Chambers, 12, Lauriston-lane, Edinburgh,
22nd December, 1869.

SIR,

Having been ordered to remove some Irish paupers to their native unions, I, in terms of your Circular of 27th October last, wrote the letter, of which I subjoin a copy, to the Clerk to the Poor Law Commissioners, Dublin, and I have received the reply, of which I also send you a copy.

I submitted these letters to this Board, when I was instructed to forward them to you for the consideration of the Board of Supervision, and at the same time to call the Board's attention to the position of opposition to the working of the law which the Commissioners have thought fit to take up.

This Board has suffered great annoyance and loss from the return of Irish paupers who had been removed to Ireland by warrant, evidently assisted in their return by moneys given to them by parties connected with the Boards of Guardians in Ireland, and it is submitted that, seeing the views held by the Commissioners in Dublin, this course of procedure will greatly increase, and the parishes in Scotland will be still more heavily burdened with Irish paupers.

It may be proper to mention here that many of the paupers returning from Ireland give as their reason that they were starved in the workhouses there, receiving only two diets a day, and without any flesh meat in the food. This statement as to dietary I can confirm by investigations made in Ireland.

I may add that I have never sent to Ireland any lunatic in irons; neither were there any lunatics in the number I proposed to send.

I am, Sir, your most obedient servant,

(Signed),

G. GARRO, Inspector.

John Skelton, esq.,

Secretary Board of Supervision.

No. 6.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of SUPERVISION for RELIEF of the POOR in SCOTLAND.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
10th January, 1870.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 7th instant, relating to the refusal of the Commissioners to furnish information to Parochial Inspectors in Scotland to enable them to remove Irish-born persons to the Irish unions, in which you state that if the Commissioners decline to afford information to the Scotch parochial authorities upon matters of fact necessary to insure properly-directed removals, the responsibility for any further misdirected removals to Ireland must rest with the Commissioners, and not with the Poor Law authorities in Scotland.

In reply, the Commissioners regret to state that they cannot coincide with the Board of Supervision in this view of the matter, nor can they recognise the propriety of the instruction given by them to the Parochial Inspectors to seek for information enabling them to carry out the Scotch Removal Law from the Poor Law authorities in Ireland, the sole object of such removal being to transfer the cost of maintaining the persons removed from the one country to the other.

In declining, as the Commissioners do, to supply such information to the Poor Law authorities in Scotland, they cannot accept, as justly belonging to them, any responsibility whatever for removals misdirected, in consequence of the ignorance of the Scotch authorities as to the proper union to which to make the removal, inasmuch as all the sources of information requisite to guide the removing authorities are equally available to them as they are to the Poor Law Commissioners in Ireland. In order to supply such information as that applied for by Inspector Greig, the Commissioners would have to look for it in an Alphabetical Return of Townlands and the Unions in which they are situate, published as part of the Irish Census Report of 1861, or to the House of Commons' Paper 377 of the Session of 1864, documents which are equally accessible to the removing authorities in Scotland as to the Commissioners.

In reference to the removal of lunatics mentioned in the Commissioners' letter to the Inspector of the Poor in Edinburgh, and to your observation that no such cases have been brought to the notice of the Board of Supervision, the Commissioners have to refer you to the cases of John Cassidy and Peter O'Donnell, the former of whom appears to have been removed from Gortnavel Asylum by the authorities of Barony Parish, Glasgow, in October, 1868; and the latter from the same parish in September last.

The following description of John Cassidy's case is given in a letter addressed by the Removing Officer to the Inspector of Barony Parish on the 16th November, 1868, communicated to this Department by the Board of Supervision :—

"On the 1st day of September, 1868, I proceeded to Calton Police Office with a medical certificate of emergency to remove him to Gortnavel Asylum. When on my way he violently attacked me in a lonesome part of the road, and nearly strangled me. He would have succeeded in doing so but for the timely assistance of two strong men, masons, who secured him; and after he was secured he said all he wanted was just two minutes more to finish me. With their assistance I took him to Gortnavel Asylum.

"On the 5th day of October, 1868, accompanied by the Head Keeper from Barahill Poorhouse Asylum, I proceeded to Gortnavel with Sheriff's warrant to remove him to Danganmon, Ireland. I had him handcuffed before I removed him, knowing him to be dangerous. I did this in order that he would not injure himself or others. I was also cautioned by one of the Gortnavel Medical Officers before leaving to watch him very close, and also by the Head Keeper there. On our passage from Glasgow to Belfast his wife several times requested me not to take the handcuffs off him. She said she was afraid if he got loose he would do harm to her or some of the children."

In the second case, that of Peter O'Donnell, it appears that he was accompanied to the Strahane Workhouse both by a Keeper and a Medical Officer, and the following account is stated to have been given of him to the workhouse authorities there by the Medical Officer :—

"The Medical Officer described said Peter O'Donnell as a most dangerous lunatic, convicted of the homicide of his officer in the army, and sentenced to seven years' penal servitude, and subsequently arrested by the Constabulary at Glasgow for threatening the life of the Secretary of State. That the Master would find him most dangerous."

Both these cases were specially brought under the notice of the Board of Supervision; and in the former case they stated, in a letter dated 7th December, 1868, that they did not see any irregularity in the proceedings, while in the latter they stated (in reference to a letter addressed by the Commissioners to the Inspector of the Poor of Barony Parish, pointing out that the workhouse authorities had no power to detain the man against his will, and that should any untoward consequences arise in the removal of a lunatic from a Scotch asylum to an Irish workhouse the removing parties would be responsible) that they had intimated to the Inspector their opinion that he might lawfully remove the lunatic to his parish in Ireland, and that if the Guardians in Ireland liberate the lunatic the Barony Parish will not be responsible.

With regard to your observation that the Board have never been unwilling that a reciprocal power of removal should be conferred on Irish Boards of Guardians, the Commissioners desire to explain that nothing could be further from their wish than the enactment of a law which should enable removal to be made from Ireland to Great Britain of English or Scotch persons who have spent their lives in Ireland, and who would be severed thereby from all their friends and connexions in that country. They are desirous not to be misunderstood in this sense when complaining of the injustice of the law as between the two countries, for they have an equally strong opinion regarding the hardships occasioned by it to poor persons removed, and therefore have no desire for a reciprocal institution in Ireland.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To John Skelton, esq., Secretary Board of Supervision, Edinburgh.

No. 7.—LETTER from the GENERAL BOARD of LUNACY, EDINBURGH, to the COMMISSIONERS.

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh,
4th February, 1870.

SIR,

I now beg leave to intimate that the Board have concluded their inquiries in connexion with the cases of removal of pauper lunatics from Scotland to Ireland as reported to them by you in your letter of the 4th ulto.

The Board are of opinion that certain alterations in the Law of Removal are desirable, and to these they propose directing the attention of the Home Secretary in their forthcoming Report, a copy of which they will have the honour of transmitting to the Poor Law Commissioners for Ireland.

I am instructed by the Board to tender through you their thanks to the Commissioners for their courtesy in furnishing them with the information for which they applied.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

WILLIAM J. BATT, for the Secretary.

B. Banks, esq., Secretary Poor Law
Commissioners, Dublin.

No. 8.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the UNDER SECRETARY of HIS EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
9th February, 1870.

SIR,

Adverting to their letter of the 5th October last, on the subject of the removal of a lunatic named Peter O'Donnell from Barony parish, Glasgow, to Stranorlar, the Commissioners have the honour to forward herewith, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of correspondence which they have since had with the Board of Supervision for Relief of the Poor in Scotland, and also with the General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh, on the subject of the removal of pauper lunatics.

In the letter above referred to, the Commissioners drew attention to a suggestion which was made by the Irish Law Officers in January, 1860, that a conference should be had between them and the Lord Advocate, and the Commissioners now submit the accompanying correspondence in confirmation of the opinion that an alteration in the Law of Removal from Scotland is necessary, in which opinion, it appears, the General Board of Lunacy in Edinburgh concur.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To T. H. Burke, esq., &c., &c.,
Dublin Castle.

No. 9.—LETTER from the BOARD of SUPERVISION for RELIEF of the POOR in SCOTLAND to the COMMISSIONERS.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh,
24th February, 1870.

SIR,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th ultimo, in which you state that all the sources of information requisite to guide the Scotch removing authorities are equally available to them as they are to the Poor Law Commissioners in Ireland, and you refer to an Alphabetical Return of Townlands and the Unions in which they are situate, published as part of the Irish Census Report of 1861, and to the House of Commons Paper 377, of the Session of 1864, as containing such information.

I am directed by the Board of Supervision for Relief of the Poor in Scotland to state that having, since the receipt of your letter of the 10th ultimo, procured copies of these documents, they have referred the Inspector of Edinburgh to them, and they will make them known to the other parochial authorities in Scotland, as supplying the information which the Board had previously suggested might be obtained by inquiries addressed to the Commissioners.

Upon this point the Board would only observe, that if the Commissioners had replied to the Inspector of Edinburgh's letter of the 16th December, by referring him to the documents to which they have now referred the Board, the necessity for the present correspondence would have been avoided.

The Board had no desire to cause unnecessary trouble to the Commissioners, but they do not think that they took an unnatural or unreasonable view of the respective duties of the Board of Supervision, and of the Commissioners for administering the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland, when they suggested that parochial authorities in Scotland should in doubtful cases address inquiries to the Commissioners upon matters of fact which were within the official knowledge of the Commissioners, the more especially when the object of these inquiries was to prevent the recurrence of misdirected removals to Ireland of which the Commissioners had in previous instances complained.

In your letter of the 10th ultimo, the Commissioners represent the Board's suggestion to Inspectors of Poor as an "instruction to seek for information enabling them to carry out the Scotch Removal Law from the Poor Law authorities in Ireland, the sole object of such removal being to transfer the cost of maintaining the persons removed from the one country to the other." The Board regret that it is impossible for them to allow this representation to pass uncorrected without appearing to acquiesce in its accuracy.

In the first place it may be remarked that it is not quite accurate to state that the sole object of removals is to transfer the cost of maintaining the persons removed from the one country to the other, the object truly being to transfer the cost of maintaining such persons from a place in which they have no legal settlement to another place in which they have a legal settlement. But, be this as it may, the Board apprehend that the Commissioners will not dispute that whatever the object of an Act of Parliament is, it is the duty of the civil departments charged with the administration of the law to promote the object of the Legislature, and to aid in the execution of the law as it stands to the utmost extent in their power, whether the individual officers appointed to these departments approve of the policy of the Legislature or not.

In the second place, the Board have to observe that the information which, on the Board's suggestion, was sought from the Commissioners was not "information enabling the Scotch parochial authorities to carry out the Scotch Removal Law," but information likely to enable them in carrying out that law to avoid misdirected removals, and the transfer of the burden from Scotland to places in Ireland not justly chargeable with it instead of to other places legally liable to bear it. The "sole object" of the suggestion was to remove a grievance in Ireland of which the Commissioners had complained, but which did not affect the Scotch parochial authorities in the slightest degree. The Act 25 and 26 Vic., c. 113, provides, by section 2, that a person liable to removal shall be removed to the place where the Judge granting the warrant shall find he was born or last resided, and, in the event of such place not being ascertained, to the port or parish which appears to the Judge most expedient; and, by section 4, that the warrant shall order the person to be removed to be delivered at the workhouse of the union in which such place or port is situated. The result, therefore, of withholding information as to the union in which any specified place is situated would not be to prevent a single removal from being carried out, but would simply be to increase the risk that in the carrying out of removals persons might be delivered at the workhouse of a wrong union.

It was on these grounds that the Board of Supervision expected that the Commissioners would co-operate with them by acting upon the suggestion which they made to the parochial authorities in Scotland.

The two instances which the Commissioners adduce in their letter of the 10th ultimo of "recent cases of a shocking nature in which, under the Removal Law of Scotland, dangerous lunatics have been taken out of lunatic asylums in Scotland and removed in irons to workhouses in Ireland," are those of John Cassidy, removed in October, 1868, and Peter O'Donnell apparently removed subsequent to 2nd September, 1869.

The case of John Cassidy was brought to the notice of the Board by the Commissioners' letter of 10th November, 1868, as being in the opinion of the Guardians of Dungannon Union "a great hardship and a great injustice," but no reason was assigned for that opinion either by the Guardians or by the Commissioners, except the alleged insufficiency of the wife's deposition to prove her husband's place of birth, and Cassidy's own statement (taken by the Guardians) upon that subject. There was no allegation then made of there having been anything of a shocking nature in the manner in which the removal was effected, nor was it then alleged that Cassidy had been removed in irons.

Having carefully re-perused the whole documents in this case, the Board have failed to see any circumstance whatever which can justify the allegations now made by the Commissioners.

Cassidy was by law removable to Ireland, there was no irregularity in the warrant of removal, and the removal was apparently effected in the manner most consistent with humanity and safety. He was not removed in irons, but the Removing Officer, warned by his own knowledge of the man, and by the asylum authorities who had the most recent experience of him, placed handcuffs upon him before he carried out the removal—a precaution which, under the circumstances, it would have been most reprehensible to have omitted, and which was so far from being "shocking" that Cassidy's wife several times during the voyage requested the officers not to remove the handcuffs.

The case of Peter O'Donnell has never until now been brought to the notice of the Board by the Commissioners, nor till the receipt of the Commissioners' letter of the 10th ultimo were the Board aware that he had been removed to Ireland. Their only previous knowledge of the case arose out of a request made to them for advice by the Inspector of Barony, on 10th August, 1869, in consequence of the Commissioners' letter to him of the 2nd August; and the Board, in reply, on the 2nd September, intimated that they were of opinion that O'Donnell might be lawfully removed to Ireland, and that if he was thereafter liberated by the Irish Guardians, the parish of Barony would not be responsible for the conduct of the Guardians.

It would now appear that O'Donnell has been removed to Ireland, and it must be assumed (there being no allegation to the contrary) that the warrant of removal was regularly obtained, and that O'Donnell was "safely conveyed" thither in terms of section 4 of the Statute 25 and 26 Vict., c. 113. In this case the Commissioners even now make no allegation of anything cruel or shocking having been done in the carrying out of the warrant of removal.

JOHN SKELTON, Secretary.

No. 10.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of SUPERVISION for RELIEF of the POOR in SCOTLAND.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

26th February, 1870.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have received your letter of the 24th inst., containing the reply of the Board of Supervision to their letter of the 10th January last, mentioning, as sources of information regarding the boundaries of unions in Ireland, a return published in the Irish Census of 1861, and also the House of Commons paper, 377, of the Session of 1864.

The Commissioners are glad to learn that the information communicated by them has enabled the Board of Supervision to supply the same generally to the parochial authorities in Scotland. They have only now to add, on that point, that, if they had been made aware that the existence of these official sources was unknown to the Board of Supervision, they would have had much pleasure in supplying that information many years ago.

As to the occasion which has arisen for the present correspondence, there is no doubt that it originated in the new form of removal order adopted by the Supervision Board, and communicated by them to the Commissioners on the 7th January, 1870. By a note at foot of that form the parochial authorities are referred to the Poor Law Commissioners in Ireland for information necessary to enable a magistrate to sign the order of removal. If the Board of Supervision, when they gave this instruction to the parochial officials in Scotland, had communicated that fact to the Commissioners, they would, no doubt, in declining to afford such information, have at once pointed out the proper sources, as in their letter of the 10th January.

The Commissioners trust that they understand the duties of their position towards the poor persons deported under the Scotch Removal Law from Scotland to Ireland, for the sole object (the Commissioners repeat) of transferring the charge of their maintenance from the one country to the other; whether such removal were or were not authorized by the provisions of that law the Commissioners have always used their authority and influence to procure for those persons a proper reception and proper treatment in this country when once within the limits to which their jurisdiction extends. But to taking part in and assisting, as they were invited to do, the process in individual cases of removal in Scotland, they felt, and continue to feel, a very strong repugnance; such as was expressed in their letter to the Inspector of the Parochial Board, Edinburgh, of the 18th December last, on the grounds set forth therein.

The Commissioners do not, however, regret the course which this correspondence has taken, since a portion of the contents of their letter to the Edinburgh Inspector, relating to lunatics removed in irons, appears to have been brought to the notice of the Lunacy Board in Scotland, who have thereupon informed the Commissioners that the removal of dangerous lunatics from asylums in Scotland is a violation of the lunacy laws, and that, in their opinion, alterations in the Law of Removal are desirable, to which they propose directing the attention of the Secretary of State for the Home Department. The Commissioners are thankful for the support thus obtained of their earnest demand for the interference of the Legislature to put an end to such outrages on humanity and public decency in future.

With regard to the case of John Cassidy, a lunatic removed in irons from a lunatic asylum near Glasgow to Dunganon Workhouse in Ireland, the Board of Supervision observe, that on the complaint being first made to them on the subject of this case there was no allegation of anything of a shocking nature in the manner in which this removal was effected, nor was it then alleged that Cassidy was removed in irons. This is perfectly correct; the description of the manner in which Cassidy had been removed, and his maniacal state at that time, having been first made known to the Commissioners by the answers of the Board of Supervision of the 7th December, 1868, as appears in the correspondence at page 6 of the Irish Poor Law Report of 1869.

There is, in fact, no allegation made by the Commissioners in regard to John Cassidy which is not derived specifically from that letter of the Board of Supervision and its enclosures, and they therefore receive with great surprise the statement that the Supervision Board can see no circumstance whatever to justify the allegations made by the Commissioners.

The Board of Supervision, in repeating the facts as they have been stated by the Commissioners, claim credit for the careful and humane manner in which the removal of the maniac John Cassidy was effected, and observes, that it was so far from "shocking" to put the handcuffs upon him, that his wife requested they might not be removed.

The cause of the wife's request that the handcuffs might not be removed was, as elsewhere expressly stated, her apprehension lest his hands being free, her husband should inflict some injury on himself or on others in the state in which he then was; and what appears "shocking" to the Commissioners in these cases is, that persons in such a maniacal state of mind as this should be removed in any manner whatever from a lunatic asylum in Scotland to a union workhouse in Ireland.

The Commissioners trust that they have not, as appears to be implied, cast any censure upon the conduct of the officials immediately concerned in the conduct of such removals as those in question; but in reference to the remark that such removals are made in conformity with the existing state of the law, they cannot forbear observing, that they find in the text of the Scotch Removal Law nothing the least suggestive of the removal of dangerous lunatics, on the contrary, it enacts that the person proposed to be removed shall be brought before the sheriff or the justices and examined touching his place of birth, and that no person shall be so removed until there has been obtained a certificate on soul and conscience that the health of such person is such as to admit of removal.

There is nothing in the enactment therefore, which places upon any party the obligation to take proceedings in such cases as these; neither upon the Parochial Board or their Inspector to prefer the complaint; nor upon the "regular medical practitioner" to sign the required certificate upon soul and conscience; nor again upon the Parochial Board or their Inspector to carry out the removal under such circumstances as those which existed in the case of John Cassidy.

Although the Supervision Board have taken an entirely different view of these removals from that which the Commissioners have ventured to express, the latter nevertheless remain in hope that the interference of the Government or of the Legislature, if necessary, may be obtained to prevent the continuance of such proceedings.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

for Relief of the Poor, Edinburgh.

No. 11.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the UNDER SECRETARY of HIS EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
1st March, 1870.

SIR,

With reference to the letter addressed to you on the 9th ultimo, transmitting for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant a copy of correspondence on the subject of the removal of pauper lunatics from Scotland to Ireland, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the honour to transmit herewith, for His Excellency's information, a copy of further correspondence with the Board of Supervision for the Relief of the Poor in Scotland on the same subject.

The Commissioners desire at the same time to add, that the cases of removal of lunatics are not the only cases in which the parochial authorities in Scotland are open to complaint in regard to their mode of carrying out the Law of Removal from Scotland to Ireland, and as instances of this the Commissioners would refer to the two following cases:—

1. The case of Mary Lochry, a child eight years of age, the only surviving member of a family of five persons, viz.—her father, mother, two brothers, and herself, who left Ireland for Greenock in July, 1867, and after having resided in Greenock for about twelve months were attacked with fever, and were admitted into the Greenock Infirmary, where the whole of the family, excepting the child Mary Lochry, died. Mary Lochry was discharged, and maintained by the parish for some time. While so maintained she was attacked with small-pox, and during her convalescence from that disease, was brought without any warrant of removal or other legal process whatever, by the Assistant Inspector of the Poor for the parish of Greenock, to the Inishowen Union, and on her admission to the workhouse the Medical Officer was of opinion that she was not sufficiently recovered to admit of her being placed in the ward with other inmates.

2. The case of Peter McGinty, who after a residence of thirty-five years in Scotland met with an accident which deprived him of his sight, and on applying for relief in consequence of his blindness, was separated from his wife, in violation of the Scotch Removal Law, and brought to Ireland (to the Stranorlar Union) against his will, his wife remaining in Scotland.

Removals from England or Wales to Ireland, have, of course, been very much more frequent than removals from Scotland to Ireland, and have been very frequently made the subject of complaint to Government by the Commissioners, but it is not in their recollection that any case ever occurred of a removal being made from England or Wales to Ireland without a warrant having been first obtained, or any case in which a husband was, by the process of removal, forcibly separated from his wife.

It is the purpose of the Commissioners to enter into full details of these cases in their next annual report to His Excellency.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To T. H. Burke, esq., &c., &c.,
Dublin Castle.

V.—CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO THE REMOVAL OF PETER M'GINTY (A BLIND MAN) FROM PAISLEY TO STRANORLAR, WITHOUT HIS WIFE.

No. 1.—EXTRACT from GUARDIANS' MINUTES, MONDAY, 18th
October, 1869.

A pauper named Peter M'Ginty, removed from Scotland, was brought before the Board. The Board, after inquiry, directed the Clerk to enclose the Warrant of Removal to the Poor Law Commissioners, with a short statement of the case, and request that the Poor Law Commissioners will institute an inquiry, if necessary.

No. 2.—LETTER from the CLERK of the UNION to the COMMISSIONERS.

STRANORLAR UNION.

GENTLEMEN, Workhouse, October 19th, 1869.

The Board of Guardians of this Union have herewith directed me to forward you the Removal Warrant under which Peter M'Ginty, a blind pauper, was brought from Scotland to this Workhouse, as also a copy of the statement made by him to the Board, and to request your opinion whether such removal was legal, he having lived for such a length of time there.

By order,

ANDREW MILLAR, Union Clerk.

The Poor Law Commissioners,
Dublin.

COPY WARRANT of REMOVAL enclosed in foregoing LETTER.

To the Inspector of Poor for the Parish of Eastwood, and to the Guardians of the (Union or Parish) of Stranorlar, County Donegal, Ireland.

ORDER FOR REMOVAL TO IRELAND.

At Paisley, the 1st day of September, 1869.

I, Hugh Cowan, esquire, Sheriff substitute of the county of Renfrew, having considered the foregoing petition and certificate, and the deposition of the said Peter M'Ginty, and having examined into the state of the health of the said Peter M'Ginty, find that the said Peter M'Ginty is of the reputed age of sixty years; find that the said Peter M'Ginty was born in the parish of Stranorlar, county Donegal, Ireland; find that the said Peter M'Ginty has become, and is now actually chargeable to the parochial Board of the parish of Eastwood, and that the said Peter M'Ginty has not acquired and retained a settlement in Scotland; find that the said person would not suffer bodily or mental injury by being removed as herein ordered: Therefore, I do hereby order that Peter M'Ginty be conveyed to, and delivered safely at the Workhouse of Stranorlar, county Donegal, Ireland; and I do order you, the said Alexander Lemon, Inspector of Poor, to cause the said person to be so safely conveyed and delivered, and you, the said Guardians of Stranorlar, county Donegal, Ireland, to receive the said person.

(Signed)

HUGH COWAN.

NOTE.—Having gone over the cases cited, I am of opinion that the pauper's residential settlement, if any, must be where he earned his livelihood, and not in Eastwood, where his family resided, and where he occasionally visited them. This being the view I take, he has failed to retain the settlement he once had in Eastwood, and his residence in Dunse was not sufficient to give him a settlement there, he is without a settlement in Scotland, and has no defence against removal.

Copy STATEMENT enclosed in foregoing LETTER.

STRANORLAR UNION.

STATEMENT made to the BOARD OF GUARDIANS of this UNION by PETER M'GINTY, a pauper sent to this Union Workhouse from Scotland under a Removal Warrant.

Peter M'Ginty, aged about sixty, was born in the Stranorlar Union, which he left thirty-five years since for Glasgow; remained in Glasgow about twenty years, from which he went to the village of Pollockshaws, Eastwood parish, where he remained twelve and a-half years. His wife and family were with him in Pollockshaws, and were there when he was removed to Ireland. Went from Pollockshaws, without removing his family, to Dunse, to look for work. Remained two and a-half years in Dunse, sending his wife and family a portion of his earnings to assist in their support. Left Dunse, and went back to Pollockshaws in March, 1868. Commenced work, and remained there to October 30th, 1868, living in a rented room. About the first week in November went to Glasgow to work, and returned every night to Pollockshaws. About the beginning of January last got his eye injured, which rendered him unable to work. Applied for relief in the month of April last, and got 10s. from the Inspector of the Poor, which his son had afterwards to pay. Soon after went to infirmary, which he left about 25th May last, and made application for relief on the Monday following, which he got at the rate of 2s. per week until it amounted to 18s. Three weeks before he was sent to Ireland he was placed in Govan Poorhouse, in the city of Glasgow. Was admitted to this Workhouse on October 14th, 1869. Is wholly blind.

ANDREW MILLAR, Union Clerk.

No. 3.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to Mr. R. HAMILTON, Poor Law Inspector.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
23rd October, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you the accompanying papers relating to "Peter M'Ginty," who was recently removed under warrant from Scotland to the Workhouse of Stranorlar Union, and the Commissioners request that you will be so good as to take this man's depositions upon oath, as the case appears to them of much importance.

Inquiry should be especially directed to the ages of the children, and whether any or all of them now in Scotland had obtained settlement in Eastwood or elsewhere.

There was no legal authority to remove the man without his wife and such children as had not acquired settlement in Scotland.

The Commissioners desire at the same time to refer you to the 77th section of the Act 8th & 9th Vic., c. 83.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To R. Hamilton, esq., Poor Law Inspector, Strabane.

No. 4.—REPORT from Mr. R. HAMILTON, Poor Law Inspector, to the COMMISSIONERS.

GENTLEMEN,

Strabane, November 1st, 1869.

In reference to your letter of the 23rd ult., No. 26217, forwarding the accompanying papers relating to the removal of Peter M'Ginty from Scotland to the Stranorlar Union, and directing me to take the man's depositions on oath, I have the honour to inform you that I did so on Saturday, and I now send you the minute of his examination.

He left Stranorlar thirty-five years ago and went to Glasgow, where he remained for nearly twenty years. He was married when he left Ireland, but his wife died in Glasgow sixteen years ago, and by her he has two sons now living, both of whom, however, are grown-up men, and independent.

In 1854 he left Glasgow, and went to the village of Pollockshaws, Eastwood parish, where he took a house, and (with the exception of having been away during three winters in Dunse) he appears to have resided continuously in it to the year 1865 (eleven years).

About twelve years ago he married his present wife, but he has no family by her.

In 1865 he gave up his house in Pollockshaws, and he and his wife both left the parish, and were absent from it for two years and a-half.

They returned to the village of Pollockshaws in March, 1868, and took a room, in which room his wife is now residing.

In November, 1868, his employment in Pollockshaws ceased, and he had to go to Glasgow—a distance of two and a-half miles—for work, but he returned to his home in Pollockshaws every night. While in this service he met with an accident, from the effects of which he lost his eyesight.

He obtained some out-door relief, and was three weeks an inmate of Govan Workhouse, Glasgow, before he was removed to Ireland.

He says he did not like being removed to Ireland, that he asked to be sent back to his wife, but was refused.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

R. HAMILTON.

The Poor Law Commissioners,
Dublin.

ENCLOSURE IN FOREGOING REPORT.

MINUTES OF INQUIRY held at STRANORLAR WORKHOUSE, on the 30th October, 1869, into the circumstances connected with the removal of a man named Peter M'Ginty, from Scotland to Stranorlar Union.

Peter M'Ginty being duly sworn states:—I was born in Stranorlar Union, and am now aged about sixty years. I have earned my livelihood as a common labourer. About thirty-five years ago I left Stranorlar, and went to Glasgow, where I remained for twenty years. I was married when I left Ireland. My wife died in Scotland about sixteen years ago. I had five children by her, but they are all dead except two sons—one of whom is a soldier, and the other is a married man, and lives in the village of Pollockshaws, just beside where I lived myself, for the last fifteen years.

It was in the year 1854 I left Glasgow, and I then went to the village of Pollockshaws, Eastwood parish, to reside. I had a house in the village, and paid taxes on it, and lived in it from 1854 to 1865. About twelve years ago I married a second time. My wife was born in Ireland. I have no family by my present wife. Between 1854 and 1865, I went three winters to the village of Dunse for work—thirty-five miles from my residence—but my wife remained at home in Pollockshaws. In 1865 I gave up my house in Pollockshaws, and went to Dunse, where I remained for two years and a-half. My wife did not accompany me, but she left Pollockshaws and must have been away from the parish at least two years of the time. I returned to Pollockshaws in March, 1868, and I brought my wife back with me. She had been working in Lechna parish. We then took a room, and my wife is now residing in same room and supporting herself. I obtained work in a tile yard, and my wife was employed in a bleach field. My work ceased in November, 1868, and I then got employment in Glasgow, a distance of about two miles from my residence in Pollockshaws. I returned home every night.

Three days before last New Year's Day I got a stroke of a coal in my eye, and inflammation set in, which rendered me unable to work, and I am now nearly quite blind.

In April last I applied to the Inspector for relief, because everyone said I was entitled to get it. The Inspector gave me 2s. 6d. a week for four weeks, but he made my son repay the 10s. Afterwards I got 2s. a week for nine weeks. I was then sent to Govan poor-house, Glasgow, where I remained three weeks, and was then removed to Ireland. I was removed against my wish. I wanted them to send me back to my wife, but they would not do so.

I arrived at Stranorlar Workhouse on the 14th October, and am now an inmate of that establishment.

No. 5.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of SUPERVISION for Relief of the Poor in SCOTLAND.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

5th November, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland beg to inform the Board of Supervision that their attention has been drawn by the Board of Guardians to the circumstances attending the removal of a pauper, named "Peter M'Ginty" from the parish of Eastwood to the Workhouse of the Stranorlar Union; and that it appearing to them that the case, so far as it was represented in the copy of the warrant received by the Guardians, and a statement made by the party to the Board, was not in accordance with the provisions of the 77th section of the Act 8th & 9th Vic., cap. 83, the Commissioners instructed their Inspector to take M'Ginty's deposition upon oath, directing inquiry especially to the point of the removal of this man without his wife and such children as had not acquired a settlement in Scotland.

The Commissioners have now received the Inspector's report, with the statement on oath of the pauper, and desire to lay before the Board of Supervision the following particulars elicited on further inquiry:—

M'Ginty states that he was married when he left Ireland for Glasgow, about thirty-five years ago; that his wife died about sixteen years ago, and that he has two surviving children (sons) of his marriage, both of whom are grown up and independent of their parent; that he married again, about twelve years ago; his present wife being alive, and that he has no children by his second marriage.

It further appears from his statement that after a residence of eleven years, continuous with the exception of his absence during three winters at Dunee, at the village of Pollockshaws in the parish of Eastwood, he gave up, in the year 1865, his house at Pollockshaws, and with his wife left the parish for two years and a half; that they returned to Pollockshaws in March, 1868, and took a room, in which his wife at present resides.

His employment at Pollockshaws having ceased in November, 1868, he states that he resorted daily to Glasgow for work, returning to his home in Pollockshaws every evening, and that while in this employment he met with an accident from the effects of which he lost his eyesight, and having subsequently become a recipient of relief was removed to Ireland; his removal as he alleges, being contrary to his wish and to his application to be sent back to his wife.

The Commissioners request the favour of the attention of the Board of Supervision to the case; it appearing to them that, according to their view of the statute above referred to, this man ought not to have been removed without his wife.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To John Skelton, esq., Secretary,
Board of Supervision, Edinburgh.

No. 6.—LETTER from the BOARD of SUPERVISION to the COMMISSIONERS.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh,
3rd February, 1870.
SIR,

Referring to your letter dated the 5th November last, respecting the removal of Peter M'Ginty from the parish of Eastwood to the Workhouse of Stranorlar Union, I am directed by the Board of Supervision for Relief of the Poor in Scotland to state, for the information of the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, that they have made inquiry into the circumstances attending the removal of this person, and that it appears that the Sheriff found that Peter M'Ginty had no settlement in Scotland, and was removable to Ireland, where he was born.

The Board have no power to review the judgment of the Sheriff who granted the warrant of removal, and the Inspector of Poor states that the pauper, when brought up for examination before the Sheriff, had an agent present to protect and plead for him, and that, so far as the Inspector is aware, everything was done in order.

As regards the fact that Peter M'Ginty's wife was not removed to Ireland along with her husband, I am directed to annex a copy of the Inspector's statement of the reason for not also removing her.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

JOHN SKELTON, Secretary.

B. Banks, esq.,
Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin.

EXTRACT referred to in preceding LETTER.

His wife was not sent to Ireland because she refused to go, or to receive any relief on her own account, saying that she was quite able to support herself by working in a bleach-field, which she was then doing, earning 6s. per week. I offered to admit both to the Poorhouse; he took advantage of the offer, but she refused, and said she wanted no relief, that she could work for herself. I wanted her even to go to Ireland to take care of him on the way, but this she also refused to do. In these circumstances I did not think I had any control over her, and that I was not justified in forcing relief on anyone.

No. 7.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
12th February, 1870.
SIR,

Adverting to their letter of the 23rd October last, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have to state that, having received a report from their Inspector, Mr. Hamilton, as to the circumstances attending the removal of Peter M'Ginty from the parish of Eastwood to the Workhouse of Stranorlar Union, to which their attention was drawn by the Board of Guardians, they addressed a letter to the Board of Supervision, communicating the particulars elicited by Mr. Hamilton; observing, at the same time, that, according to their view of the statute 8 and 9 Vic., cap. 83., sec. 77, the man ought not to have been removed without his wife.

The Commissioners have now received a letter from the Board of Supervision on the subject, a copy of which and of the statement of the Inspector of Poor, enclosed therewith, is annexed hereto for the Guardians' information.

The Commissioners request that they may be informed whether Peter

M'Ginty is still in the Stranorlar Workhouse, and if not, whether the Guardians are aware of his place of residence at present.

The reasons furnished by the Inspector of Poor for not causing the removal of the wife with the husband in this case are wholly insufficient, in the Commissioners' opinion, to account for that proceeding, which appears to them to have been contrary to the provisions of the 77th section of the statute above referred to, which contemplates properly and naturally the removal of the wife and children with the husband and father in cases where removal is resorted to.

There is no legal provision authorizing the separation of husband and wife and child in removal cases.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of Stranorlar Union.

NO. 8.—EXTRACT from GUARDIANS' MINUTES, Monday, 14th February, 1870.

Read letter from the Poor Law Commissioners, No. 3,400, dated 12th February, 1870, respecting the removal of Peter M'Ginty from the parish of Eastwood, Scotland, to the workhouse, Stranorlar Union, &c. Peter M'Ginty left this workhouse on 5th November, 1869, we believe intending to go to Scotland. He left his address with the workhouse master, viz., "The Rev. Father Narey, Pollockshaw, Glasgow."

VI.—CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO THE REMOVAL OF JANE SPENCE (BORN IN IRELAND OF ENGLISH PARENTS) FROM THE STRAND UNION TO LARNE UNION.

NO. 1.—LETTER from the CLERK of the UNION to the COMMISSIONERS.

Larne Union,
17th June, 1868.

GENTLEMEN,

The Board of Guardians assembled here to-day request you will favour them with your opinion in the following case :—

Jane Spence, a woman aged sixty-one years, says that she has reason to believe that she was born in Ireland at a place called Glenham, county not known, which she left at the age of a few weeks, her father having been a soldier in the Sappers and Miners, and not having been in Ireland at the time of her birth, and her mother having come over on a visit and prematurely confined, she was taken by her mother to England, and was in various places, but never since her birth in Ireland, except for a short time in Lurgan with her husband, who was a soldier in the 14th.

She went to London twenty-five years ago, and has been there ever since.

Both her father and mother were English, and her husband also.

Having been attacked with rheumatism, she went into the Strand Union Workhouse in London, and was sent from thence to Larne Union by the authorities, there being a place in Larne Union called Glenarva.

The Guardians of Larne Union beg to represent that if this story be true, there is no legal power to compel them to support her.

The name of her father is Thomas Clarke, a native of Wales, that of her mother Jane Clarke, a native of Bristol, and her husband, William Spence, sergeant of the 14th Regiment, a native of Colechester, all of whom are dead.

I am directed by the Guardians to enclose the warrant under which this woman was brought here, and to request you will return same when done with.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

J. M. M'CORMICK, Clerk of Union.

To the Poor Law Commissioners, Dublin.

No. 2.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
23rd June, 1868.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 17th instant, relating to the removal from the Strand Union Workhouse to Larne Union of a woman named Jane Spence; and in reply the Commissioners desire to state that if it is true that Jane Spence was born of English parents and married an Englishman, she probably had a settlement in England, to which the authorities in the Strand Union could have removed her instead of removing her illegally to Ireland.

The Commissioners desire, at the same time, to state that it is for the Guardians to consider whether they will incur the expense of a preliminary inquiry under the 7th section of the 26th and 27th Vic., cap. 89, and of an appeal against the warrant of removal, if upon such preliminary inquiry there should appear sufficient grounds for an appeal.

In the event of an appeal being successful, the whole of the costs both of the preliminary inquiry and of the appeal, and the cost of the pauper's maintenance and of her removal back to the Strand Union, would be payable by that union; but unless the appeal should be successful the costs would fall upon the Larne Union.

A copy of the section of the Act above referred to is enclosed herewith for the Guardians' information.

The warrant forwarded with your letter is returned herewith.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

The Clerk to the Guardians of Larne Union.

Note.—The Board of Guardians did not take any further step in the matter.

VII.—CORRESPONDENCE RESPECTING THE TRANSFER OF LUNATICS FROM THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA TO IRELAND.

No. 1.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the UNDER SECRETARY of HIS EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
26th January, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, have the honour to state, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, that they have received from the Board of Guardians of Cork Union, minutes of their proceedings, at a meeting on the 26th inst., in which is recorded a report from the Master of the Workhouse, regarding the admission into the Workhouse of three female lunatic paupers, who it appears were recently landed at Queenstown from America.

A copy of the Master's report, giving a deplorable account of the condition of the females referred to, is enclosed.

The Board of Guardians have been in communication, with reference to the landing of some lunatic paupers recently on another occasion from America, with the agents of the National Steam Packet Company, and with the American Consul at Queenstown, and the agents of the Packet Company have stated that it was not the wish of the Company to carry lunatic paupers to this country from the United States, and that they have given instructions to their agents to refuse them.

A communication has also been addressed by the Board of Guardians to the agents of another Steam Packet Company (the Guion line), on the same subject.

The Inspector in charge of the Union states in reference to the workhouse Master's report, enclosed, that this is the second time, within a short period, that lunatics have been landed at Queenstown from America, and that this proceeding is very distressing and particularly oppressive on the Cork Workhouse.

The Commissioners are not aware whether any remedy exists for the evil complained of, but they think it right to report the circumstances for the information of His Excellency.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To Col. Sir E. R. Wetherall, &c., &c.,
Dublin Castle.

ENCLOSURE IN FOREGOING LETTER.

EXTRACT FROM MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF GUARDIANS OF CORK UNION OF THE 26th January, 1869.

REPORT OF THE MASTER OF THE WORKHOUSE.

That during the week three female lunatics were admitted to the Workhouse, described as follows, viz.—Mary Driscoll, aged 30, Skibbereen; Mary Conway, aged 25, Galway; Mary Curragh, aged 49, Fermanagh. The two first were found straying about the roads, and were brought to the Workhouse on Monday by the police. It appears they were landed at Queenstown from America, and the poor creatures were scarcely able to give any account of themselves. They were half-furnished when found, and the magistrates kindly ordered them food before they were brought to the House.

February 8th, 1869.

SIR,

I am directed by the Earl of Clarendon to request that you will state to Mr. Secretary Bruce that, before his Lordship can take any steps respecting the lunatic female paupers recently landed at Queenstown, he must be informed of the port of the United States from which they were sent, the name of the vessel which conveyed them, the date of their leaving America, and any other circumstances which may enable a statement of the facts of this case, or of any previous similar case, to be made to the Government at Washington.

No. 3.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to DR. KING, POOR LAW INSPECTOR.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
17th February, 1869.

SIR,

With reference to the circumstances mentioned in the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians of the Cork Union on the 20th ult., regarding the cases of three female lunatic paupers, who it appears were recently landed at Queenstown from America, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland request that you will be good enough to ascertain, if possible, the port of the United States from which these paupers were sent, the name of the vessel which conveyed them, the date of their leaving America, and any other circumstances which may serve to complete a statement of the facts of the case.

The file of papers on the subject is enclosed, which you will be good enough to return with your report.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To Dr. King, Poor Law Inspector,
1, Belgrave-place, Cork.

No. 4.—REPORT from DR. KING to the COMMISSIONERS.

GENTLEMEN,

Cork, 20th February, 1869.

In reply to your letter of instructions of the 17th instant, No. 4,245, in which you request that I shall ascertain if possible the name of the port of the United States from which three lunatic paupers, who were recently landed at Queenstown, had been sent, the name of the vessel which conveyed them, and the date of their leaving America, I have the honour to inform you that, on questioning the Master of the Workhouse, he could not give any further information than is contained in his report to the Board of Guardians of the 20th ult.

One of these lunatics, Mary Curragh, from Fermanagh, aged 49, became so violent that it was necessary to have her transferred to the Cork Lunatic Asylum. The other, Mary Connolly, from Berna, in the county Galway, left Ireland for America, about six years ago; and Mary Driscoll, aged 30, from Skibbereen, in the county Cork, left Ireland five or six years ago. I obtained this information from the lunatics themselves. They answered correctly when questioned as to circumstances which had occurred long ago—mental disease had not only impaired their intellect, but had reduced their memory to a condition analogous to that of old age; the faculty of registering recent events had gone, while they preserved the recollection of matters which had forcibly impressed their minds in early life. In fact, they now live in the past, and I could not obtain reliable information from them as to what had occurred previous to or subsequent to their being landed. However, I placed myself in communication with the Stationmaster of the Cork Railway Terminus, with the police, and Custom House officers of Queenstown, and with the agents of the Cunard, Guion, National, and Inman Steam Companies, Queenstown. Several difficulties, which it is unnecessary to detail, presented, but I eventually succeeded in obtaining all the information required.

Mary Curragh, Mary Connolly, and Mary Driscoll, were put on board one of the Cunard steamers (the Siberia), by whom I could not ascertain. This vessel sailed from New York on Thursday, the 7th of January. She arrived at Queenstown on Monday morning, the 18th of January, when those three lunatic women were landed—no one appearing to have charge of them. One of them (Mary Driscoll) entered the Queenstown Post Office, where she remained for some time, talking incoherently; she then left, and no more is known of those three persons until their arrival in the course of the day at the railway terminus, Cork. On their tickets being demanded they had none to give; the stationmaster directed the attention of the police to them, who brought them to the Cork Workhouse, into which they were admitted on the 18th of January.

I could not obtain any further particulars of those wretched creatures, who, no doubt, were landed in the country of their birth, but at a distance from their former homes, unprotected, friendless, and in a condition of social and mental destitution.

I herewith return the papers which accompanied your letter of instructions, and have the honour to remain,

Your obedient servant,

CHARLES CROKER KING.

To the Poor Law Commissioners.

No. 5.—LETTER from COMMISSIONERS to the UNDER-SECRETARY of the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

23rd February, 1869.

SIR,

Adverting to their letter of the 17th inst., the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the honour to forward herewith, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of a report which they have received from their Inspector, Dr. King, of the inquiries made by him regarding the case of the three lunatic female paupers recently landed at Queenstown from America.

It appears that the paupers in question were put on board one of the steamers (the Siberia) belonging to the Cunard Company (but by whom the Inspector was unable to ascertain), which sailed from New York on the 7th January, and arrived at Queenstown on the morning of Monday, the 18th January, when the three females were landed, no one appearing to have charge of them.

It will be seen by Dr. King's report that, owing to the state of mind of these poor women, he has been unable to ascertain any further particulars relating to their removal from America.

The file of papers received from you on the 16th instant, is returned herewith.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

No. 7.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the CHIEF SECRETARY'S OFFICE.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

20th May, 1869.

SIR,

Adverting to their letters of the 26th January and 23rd February last, respectively, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the honour to forward herewith, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of a resolution which was passed at the meeting of the Board of Guardians of Cork Union on the 12th instant relating to the landing at Queenstown, and subsequent admission into Cork Workhouse, of four female lunatics conveyed from New York.

The Commissioners are informed by the Poor Law Inspector in charge of the Cork Union that the names of the four females referred to are "Abbey Butler, Anne Gray, Mary Cullen, and Esther Daly," aged 50, 46, 50, and 52 years, and natives of Middleton, in the county of Cork, Galway, Sligo, and King's County, respectively.

It is further reported that all of these persons had been resident for many years in America, and that they had been inmates of the Tewkesbury Lunatic Asylum, which is stated to be under the management of a Mr. Benjamin Stephens.

They were landed on Wednesday the 5th instant at Queenstown from the "City of Antwerp," one of the Inman line of steamers.

Two of them were found by one of the Relieving officers of Cork Union, at five o'clock P.M., sheltering at a hall door on the beach, the other two being found by the police during the evening wandering about.

None of the poor creatures had any money or means of procuring food or lodging, both of which were provided by the Relieving Officer, the expense having, however, been subsequently defrayed by the agent of the Inman Line of Packets, and on the following day they were admitted into the Cork Workhouse.

As the Commissioners stated in their communication of the 26th January, they are not aware whether any direct remedy exists for the evil complained of; but it appeared from some recent correspondence which the Cork Board of Guardians had with the agents of the National Steam Packet Company that that company had no desire to convey lunatic paupers from America to Ireland. It also appears by the letter from Messrs. M'Iver of the 5th instant, a copy of which is communicated in your letter of the 15th instant, that the agents of the Cunard steamers at New York have been requested to be very careful as to whom they ship for this country in future. Nevertheless, the Commissioners have considered it their duty to report, for His Excellency's information, the present cases, in addition to those which were complained of in their letter of the 26th January, 1869.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To Robert Matheson, esq.,
Chief Secretary's Office, Dublin Castle.

ENCLOSURE in foregoing LETTER.

EXTRACT FROM MINUTES of the BOARD of GUARDIANS of CORK UNION of 12th May, 1869.

Mr. Seymour brought under the notice of the Guardians the fact appearing on the book of one of the Relieving Officers that four lunatic paupers, recently landed from an American steamer at Queenstown, had been received into the Workhouse during the past week.

On the motion of Mr. LYONS, seconded by Mr. JULLIAN, it was resolved—

"Seeing that the authorities at New York have lately adopted the practice of sending back to this country by the Atlantic steamers a number of lunatics, all of whom are transferred to and finally become residents of this Workhouse, we beg to call the special attention of our county and city members to this fact, and request them to wait upon the Irish Chief Secretary to take the necessary steps to prevent such a great injustice being done to ratepayers of this Union, as under the existing law they must pay for the support of these poor people, few if any of whom ever belonged to Cork."

No. 8.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the UNDER SECRETARY of the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
1st June, 1869.

SIR,

Adverting to their letter of the 20th ultimo, and to previous communications, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the honour to state for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant that their attention has been called by the Board of Guardians of Cork Union to the landing at Queenstown of an additional number of female lunatics from America.

It appears from the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians on the 26th ultimo, and the observations of the Poor Law Inspector, that on the 17th ultimo the City of Baltimore, one of the Inman line of steamers, called at Queenstown, on her way to Liverpool, having on board six female lunatics. They were not, however, permitted to land, but were taken on to Liverpool, and sent back from thence to Ireland, with directions to have them forwarded to their homes at the Company's expense.

From the very unsettled state of mind, however, of two of the lunatics it was found necessary to send them to the Cork Workhouse, into which they were admitted on the 22nd ultimo.

These females, "Catherine Barry," aged 40, and "Catherine Gregory," aged 40 years; were born, the first in the county of Waterford, and the latter in the county of Kildare, and had been respectively twenty-one and fourteen years in America.

It also appears that two other lunatics sent from America, "Ellen Devers," aged 30 years, born in the county Donegal, and eighteen years in America, and "Mary Keogh," aged 50, born in the county of Cavan, and twenty-three years in America, were admitted into the Cork Workhouse on the 20th ultimo.

The first of these women came from America in the City of Baltimore steamer, and the latter in the City of Brooklyn, arriving respectively on the 17th May and 25th of April last.

None of these persons had any connexion with the Cork Union, and the Board of Guardians, who have no power to send them on to their place of birth in Ireland, feel it to be a hardship on the ratepayers to have them cast upon the Union for support, and the Commissioners think it right to report the circumstances for the information of His Excellency.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To T. H. Burke, esq., &c., &c.,
Chief Secretary's Office, Dublin Castle.

No. 9.—LETTER from the SECRETARY of STATE for the HOME DEPARTMENT to the UNDER SECRETARY of the LORD LIEUTENANT. Referred to the COMMISSIONERS, with minute requesting their opinion as to what further steps should be taken.

SIR,

Whitehall, 26th June, 1869.

With reference to your letter of the 3rd instant and former correspondence I am directed by Mr. Secretary Bruce to transmit to you, to be laid before His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant with a view to their being forwarded to the Irish Poor Law Board, the accompanying copy of a communication from the Board of Trade, and of its enclosure, relative to the landing of Pauper Lunatics in the United Kingdom from the United States.

I am to add, that Mr. Bruce sees no way to prevent the cruelty and scandal of such removals but by an understanding with foreign Governments as to the circumstances under which pauper lunatics should be removed and received. If this preliminary arrangement were concluded some legislation would be necessary to give effect to it, and also to obviate the injustice of inflicting upon the Unions in which these lunatics are landed the charge of maintaining them in the event of their places of settlement being unknown.

I am, sir, &c.,

A. F. O. LIDDELL.

SIR,

With reference to previous correspondence respecting the landing at Queenstown of female lunatic paupers from the United States, I am directed by the Board of Trade to transmit to you, to be laid before Mr. Secretary Bruce, the accompanying copy of a letter which has been addressed to this Board upon the subject by Mr. William Inman.

(2.)—LETTER from Mr. INMAN to the BOARD of TRADE.

Liverpool, New York, and Philadelphia Steam-ship Company,
Nos. 62 and 63, Tower Buildings, Liverpool,
16th June, 1869.

SIR,

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, M. 4,841, of the 5th instant (which bears the above heading), relative to four female lunatics who were landed at Queenstown from this Company's steamer, City of Antwerp, on the 5th ultimo, and intimating to me that Her Majesty's Government do not hold themselves responsible for any expenses in respect of lunatic paupers received on board any of my Company's steamers without the authority of Her Majesty's Consul, and without information being given as to the destination of such persons.

In reply, I beg respectfully to observe that I do not quite understand the object of the intimation contained in your letter, inasmuch as I have never asked Her Majesty's Government to be responsible for any expenses whatever; nor can any expenditure by them or the parochial authorities in reference to the lunatics referred to be in relief of my liability, as I am advised and believe that as soon as I have completed my contract to carry any passenger, lunatic or sane, to the port for which he is booked, there is an end of my liability on my part in the matter.

I am, however, quite alive to the inconvenience caused by the introduction into this country or Ireland of lunatics without means, and also to the trouble and annoyance which their presence on board of my Company's steamers must necessarily occasion; and it is not from the want of any care on my part to prevent their being carried that they are brought here. The strictest injunctions are given to this Company's agent at New York not to book such persons, or receive them on board on any terms whatever, and as far as possible these instructions are carried out; but it is impossible to prevent such cases occurring in spite of the utmost care and vigilance. The lunatic does not apply for his own ticket, but some person on his behalf applies for it, and no information is given as to there being anything wrong with the passenger. When the latter is shipped he is to all appearance sane, and it is not in general discovered until after the voyage has been commenced that he is a lunatic. Whenever the discovery is made at any time previous to the departure of the steamer the lunatic is at once rejected, although by so rejecting him (after the ticket is issued) a claim for breach of contract might probably be made. Now, I would respectfully ask the Department what I am to do under the above mentioned circumstances? On a recent occasion when some lunatics were shipped for Queenstown the Company's agent there declined to allow them to be landed knowing that they were without means. They were consequently brought on in the steamer to Liverpool, and I directed that they should be sent back to New York; but on consulting the Company's solicitor they advised me that by so doing, without the consent of the lunatics or their friends, we should be exposed to an action on their behalf, and that we were already liable to one for carrying them to Liverpool instead of landing them at the port for which tickets had been issued to them; and acting under this advice I at once sent the lunatics, at the expense of the Company, not merely to Queenstown, but to their native places in Ireland.

An action was once brought against the Company for accidentally carrying off to New York a person who had gone on board one of our steamers at Queenstown to see off some relatives, and we were then put to an expense of several hundred pounds. I have no desire to repeat the experiment.

If the Department can indicate to me any practicable mode in the existing state of the law of getting over the difficulty which is experienced with reference to these pauper lunatics, I shall be only too glad to avail myself of it; but at present, notwithstanding all my efforts, I am unable wholly to prevent their being shipped, and I am not aware that I can do anything more than I have done.

If any change can be made in the law by the introduction of a clause into the Merchant Shipping Law Consolidation Bill which is in contemplation, allowing or even compelling ship-owners in such cases to take back the lunatic to the port from whence he came, and protecting them against any claims in consequence of their so doing, I shall be exceedingly glad, as by that means it will probably become possible to prevent such persons from being shipped in future, and I think that other ship-owners in the emigration would be equally pleased. A similar law prevails in the United States. Possibly Her Majesty's Consul at New York might be able to take some action in the matter as I think it is not improbable that some pauper lunatic asylum in the States is getting rid of its inmates by sending them to this country, dividing them among the several steamers in small numbers to avoid suspicion. On no other supposition can I account for the lunatics being shipped.

I have, &c.,

(Signed)

WILLIAM INMAN.

6th July, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the honour to return herewith, with thanks, the file of papers which you referred to them on the 1st inst. on the subject of the landing of pauper lunatics in this country from the United States.

As regards the inquiry contained in your Minute as to what further steps should, in the opinion of the Commissioners, be taken, the Commissioners beg to state for the information of their Excellencies the Lords Justices, that they infer from Mr. Secretary Bruce's letter to the Under Secretary, dated the 26th June, that it is considered by him to be in the province of the Foreign Office Department to take the steps which alone can lead to a termination of the cruel and scandalous proceedings in question, which Mr. Inman is probably correct in attributing to a system adopted by the authorities of some pauper lunatic asylum or asylums in the United States, in order to rid themselves of the burthen of supporting certain inmates of such asylums.

I am directed by Mr. Secretary Bruce to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of 6th inst. respecting the landing of lunatic paupers from America at Queenstown, and I am to acquaint you, for the information of their Excellencies the Lords Justices, that the Earl of Clarendon has instructed Her Majesty's Minister at Washington to take such steps as he properly can for checking this very serious grievance.

No. 12.—LETTER from the CLERK of LONDONDERRY UNION to the COMMISSIONERS.

GENTLEMEN, Poor Law Union Office, Londonderry,
September 28, 1869.

I am directed by the Board of Guardians of the Londonderry Union, to inform you, that the following persons have been admitted to the workhouse of the Londonderry Union, having been sent from the United States, by the "Anchor Line" of Steam Ships, to the Foyle, and then to the Derry Workhouse.

1869.	Aged
10th June, John Finlay,	50, of weak mind, lived near Belfast.
5th July, John McHugh,	32, Insane, from county Tyrone.
11th Sept. John Henry,	60, Weak intellect, from county Cork.
11th, " John Everie,	22, Insane, a native of Italy.
14th, " John Chatterton,	27, Sick, a native of Cork, since recovered and took his discharge.

The Guardians consider it a grievance that the authorities in the United States should pursue a course of landing helpless paupers, from all parts of Ireland, and even from the continent, at Londonderry, the first Irish port touched by the steam ships carrying passengers; and as the practice seems rapidly on the increase, the Guardians have directed that the Poor Law Commissioners should be put in possession of the circumstance.

SIR,

With reference to Mr. Burke's letter of the 26th July last, and to previous correspondence on the subject of the landing of lunatic paupers at Queenstown from America, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of a letter which they have received from the Clerk of Londonderry Union from which it appears that the practice is now adopted by a line of steamers calling at ports in the north of Ireland, and that in one case the grievance is aggravated by the fact that the man so landed in Ireland in a destitute state, and cast on the poor rate for support is a foreigner, an Italian,

No. 14.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the BOARD of GUAR-DIANS of LONDONDERY UNION.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

October 8, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th ult., drawing their attention to the circumstance that several persons, most of whom are of unsound mind, have been sent from America by the Anchor Line of Steam Ships to the Foyle, and landed in a destitute state, necessitating their admission to the workhouse of Londonderry Union.

In reference thereto the Commissioners desire to state that the grievance complained of has already been brought under the notice of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant by them, in regard to the landing of pauper lunatics from the United States at Queenstown, and the Commissioners have been given to understand that the attention of the British Minister to the United States has been called to the subject.

By order of the Commissioners,

VIII.—CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO THE SALARIES OF THE INSPECTORS.

No 1.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the CHIEF SECRETARY of HIS EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

20th July, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, desire to draw the attention of their Excellencies the Lords Justices to their letter of the 25th January last, and to the application from Poor Law Inspectors which accompanied it, on the subject of the duties now devolving on them, not only under the Poor Law Acts, but under the Medical Charities and Sanitary Acts, and submitting their claims to be allowed a higher rate of salary than is at present assigned to them.

The further experience which the Commissioners have had since the date of the letter above referred to, of the arrangements made under the provisions of the Act 31 & 32 Vic., cap. 74, has confirmed them in the views which they have already expressed as to the advantage resulting to the public service from the provision enabling Poor Law Inspectors to act as Inspectors under the Medical Charities and Sanitary Acts, while they are at the same time aware that the arrangement entails a loss upon the Inspectors, the additional duties now assigned to them involving more travelling, and consequently more personal expenses, for which latter they receive a commuted allowance which has not been increased.

The recommendation which the Commissioners submitted in their letter of the 25th January would not cause any change in the commencing salary of an Inspector under the Irish Poor Law and Medical Charities Acts, but would place such Inspector, after twenty years' service, upon the same footing as that on which the Poor Law Inspectors in England are placed on entering the service.

The Commissioners took occasion in their last annual Report (paragraphs 38 and 39) to refer to this subject, and also to the subject of certain additional duties recently cast upon the Poor Law auditors, in whose case, however, provision has been made in the Act which creates the duty for remunerating them for the additional labour.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

Right Hon. Chichester P. Fortescue, M.P.,

No. 2.—FURTHER LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the CHIEF SECRETARY of the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

1st October, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to draw your attention to the correspondence which has taken place on the subject of the increased duties devolving upon Poor Law Inspectors, in consequence of the arrangements made under the Act enabling them to act as Inspectors under the Medical Charities Act and under the Sanitary Acts. The Commissioners desire to refer particularly to their letters of the 25th January and 20th July last, with the former of which they transmitted an application from certain of the Poor Law Inspectors, submitting their claims to be allowed a higher rate of salary than is at present assigned to them, and at the same time submitted for the consideration of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant a definite proposal for the improvement of the position of the Inspectors, trusting that his Excellency would be pleased to recommend it to the favourable consideration of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

The Right Hon. C. P. Fortescue, M.P.,
&c., &c., Dublin Castle.

No. 3.—LETTER from the UNDER SECRETARY of the LORD
LIEUTENANT to the COMMISSIONERS.

Dublin Castle, 11th October, 1869.

GENTLEMEN,

With reference to your further letter of the 1st instant, respecting the salaries of the Poor Law Inspectors in Ireland, I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to acquaint you that, before again recommending their application for an improved scale of salary to the favourable consideration of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, it is necessary that his Excellency be furnished with a reply to their lordships' letter of the 19th September, 1868, containing or implying a comparison of the duties of Poor Law Inspectors in England and Ireland, the substance of which letter was communicated to you by the then Under Secretary, under date the 22nd September, 1868.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. H. BURKE.

The Poor Law Commissioners, Custom House.

ENCLOSURE in No. 3.

Treasury Chambers, 19th September, 1868.

MY LORD,

I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acknowledge the receipt of your lordship's letter of the 8th inst., recommending to the favourable consideration of their lordships an application from the Poor Law Commissioners on behalf of their Inspectors for an improved scale of salaries, which would have the effect of giving them after twenty years' service, a maximum of £900 per annum, instead of, as at present, a maximum salary of £600, with a commuted allowance for travelling expenses of £150 a year, thus placing them on an equality with the Poor Law Inspectors of England.

In reply, I am desired by their lordships to state, for the information of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, that having fully considered all the bearings of the question, and having regard to the relative number of paupers, and the amount of money spent in poor law relief in England and Ireland, and the comparative number of unions, and the acreage of the two countries, they are unable to form any other opinion, but that the difference between the salaries of the English and Irish Inspectors is only just and reasonable, and they are, therefore, unable to sanction the proposed improved scale.

I have the honour to be, my Lord,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed)

WILLIAM LAW.

The Earl of Mayo.

No. 4.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the CHIEF SECRETARY of the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

21st October, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the honour to acknowledge the letter of the Under Secretary of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, dated the 11th instant, expressing his Excellency's desire to be furnished with a reply to the letter of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury of the 19th September, 1868, containing, or implying, a comparison of the duties of Poor Law Inspectors in England and Ireland.

The passage here alluded to is in the following terms:—

"Having regard to the relative number of paupers, and the amount of money spent in poor law relief in England and Ireland, and the comparative number of unions, and the acreage of the two countries, their lordships are unable to form any other opinion, but that the difference between the salaries of the English and Irish Inspectors is only just and reasonable, and they are, therefore, unable to sanction the proposed improved scale [of salaries]."

The Commissioners gladly accept the opportunity now afforded to them, by his Excellency's command, of replying to the reasons assigned, as above, for maintaining a difference between the salaries of the English and Irish Inspectors. Before doing so, however, they beg to point out that their proposal was to place the Irish Inspectors, after twenty years' service, on the same footing as that enjoyed by the English Inspectors from the first day of their appointment, allowing the Irish Inspectors to begin with the present emoluments, viz., £650 per annum, and to arrive by gradual annual increment to £900 per annum as a maximum.

The inference derivable from the language of their lordships, as above quoted, is that the duties of the Irish Inspector are not so extensive, nor his services so valuable to the public as those of the English Inspector, having regard to the different circumstances of the two countries; that is to say, the difference in the relief expenditure, the number of paupers, the number of unions, and the acreage.

The differences in question are as follows, taking the statistics of 1868 as the basis of comparison:—

—	Average daily number of paupers.	Relief Expenditure.	Number of Unions.	Acreage.
England, . . .	992,640	£ 7,498,051	667	37,324,883
Ireland, . . .	70,619	829,531	163	20,815,460

According to the estimates for the two departments for 1868-69, the number of Inspectors in England was at that time eighteen, including four Inspectors of Workhouse Schools, and the number in Ireland was eleven, including four Medical Inspectors. The number of Inspectors' districts in England appear to be only eleven, two of the fourteen Inspectors having medical duties only, and a third being unattached to district duty. The number of Inspectors' districts in Ireland is also eleven, each Medical Inspector having a district of unions under his charge for all purposes.

There is certainly a disproportion in these numbers, having regard to the circumstances specified; nevertheless the Commissioners feel there are valid grounds for believing that the duties of Inspectors in Ireland are as extensive and their services as useful as those of the Inspectors in England.

With regard to the relative number of paupers in the two countries, an important part of a Poor Law Inspector's duty is to attend the meetings of Boards of Guardians, to assist them in the discharge of their business, and to inculcate sound principles of administration; and it may be doubted whether the excess alluded to in the number of paupers, relatively to the population, should be regarded as indicating a greater degree of value in this branch of the service. The large number of unions in each Inspector's district in England makes it quite impossible that this branch of duty should be discharged so regularly and efficiently there as it is in Ireland.

Another consideration arising on a comparison of the number of paupers is the fact that of the 992,640 paupers in England no less than 842,600 receive out-door relief; whereas in Ireland of the 70,619 receiving relief only 16,862 are out-door poor, making this class in England fifty times as great as the same in Ireland. On the other hand, the indoor poor in Ireland amount to 53,617, while those in England do not exceed 150,040, or somewhat under three times the number, a proportion not very different from that of the population in the two countries.

Now, the ordinary duty of the District Inspector brings him, or ought to bring him, frequently into contact with the indoor poor, in order to observe the state of their diet, their clothing, their day-rooms, their dormitories, their treatment, and all other matters affecting their condition; and this duty we know is capable of being done efficiently in Ireland with the existing number of Inspectors. Whether the same number of Inspectors in England be sufficient to secure an equally effective attendance at four times the number of unions containing four times the number of workhouses, and nearly three times the number of inmates, may very reasonably be questioned.

But the ordinary duty of an Inspector in either country does not bring him in contact with the out-door poor except to the very limited extent available to him when attending a Board of Guardians during the time they are considering the cases of the applicants for relief, and the 842,600 out-door paupers in England can add little to the duties of an Inspector beyond occasional inquiries into the conduct of Relieving Officers when complained of, and the business arising on cases proposed to be excepted, with the assent of the Poor Law Board, from the operation of the prohibitory order.

Thus the presumption raised by the enormous difference in the number of out-door poor in the two countries, if it be allowed to weigh in a comparison of the duties of the English and Irish Inspector, ought to be permitted to do so subject to the consideration stated.

A similar remark applies, and for the same reasons, to the difference of the expenditure in out-door relief, which in England is eighty times as much as in Ireland.

The following analysis of the sum of £7,498,061 expended in relief in England in 1867-68 is taken from the last Report of the Poor Law Board:—

In maintenance,	1,517,496
Out-relief,	3,620,284
Maintenance of lunatics,	656,792
Workhouse loans,	207,998
Salaries and rations of officers,	770,539
Other expenses,	724,952
Total,	£7,498,061

In addition to what has been said on the subject of the out-door relief item (£3,620,284) it may be observed that the maintenance of lunatics (£656,792) has no connexion whatever with the duties of an English Poor Law Inspector, the lunatics referred to, though paid for from the poor-rates, being maintained in lunatic asylums. The next item, "Workhouse Loans" (£207,998) consists of annual repayments, with interest, of money borrowed by the guardians for the building of workhouses, and represents no part of a Poor Law Inspector's duty at the present time, except probably in the metropolitan district.

How far the item "Other expenses" (£724,952) represents any part of a Poor Law Inspector's duty it is not easy to say; but it will not be far wrong to state that Inspectors' business in England is mainly represented by the item of "In maintenance," viz., £1,517,496, and the item of "Salaries and rations, &c., of officers," the latter being taken as a measure of the number of persons over whose official conduct supervision is exercised by the Inspector.

The Commissioners now pass to the difference in "the number of unions" and "the acreage." As regards the latter, it does not appear to be much out of proportion with the total number of Inspectors in the two countries, but the number of unions in each Inspector's district in England is on the average four times as great as in Ireland; that is to say, as sixty in one to fifteen in the other, on the average.

The unions in Ireland, however, are much more extensive and more populous than those in England. The acreage of Ireland, divided by the number of unions, gives 127,000 acres to each union on the average, and the acreage of England 56,000; and the workhouses in Ireland are larger and occupied by a larger number of inmates. It must be stated also that the Boards of Guardians in Ireland lean much more in administering the Poor Law on the District Inspector and the Central Board than is the case in England. In the vast majority of the rural English unions very little necessity is felt, or exists, perhaps, for the constant supervision of an Inspector, and his aid is called in on very special occasions only.

In Ireland, besides special occasions for visit, inquiry, and report, every union is visited by the Inspector, and the workhouse inspected once in each half-year, and a report made to the Central Board on its financial condition, the state of the workhouse in its several departments, the conduct of the schools, both literary and industrial, and lastly on the state of repair of the buildings; and on the receipt of every such report, the result, favourable or unfavourable, is communicated to the Guardians, and the correspondence continues until all remedial measures required have been carried out.

It must not be forgotten that, beside the workhouse, in each union there is usually one, and sometimes more than one separate building, called a Fever Hospital, under the direct management of the Board of Guardians. These hospitals afford in the aggregate 10,000 beds, and, at a time when the country is peculiarly exempt from contagious disease, contain an average daily number of 1,300 patients, which it is part of the Irish Inspector's duty to inspect.

In addition to these establishments, there are in each union, on an average, five Dispensary Buildings furnished and fitted up by the Board of Guardians, but situate in various parts of the union, more or less remote from the centre. These are necessarily visited from time to time by the Inspector, to see that the buildings are kept in a proper state, and the medicines, medical and surgical appliances be taken due care of, and that the Medical Officers duly enter up their Medical Relief and Vaccination Registers. In the year 1867-8, no less than 767,759 persons received medical relief, and in the same year 131,426 were vaccinated.

In every union also there is business arising under the Sanitary Acts and Burial Board Acts, as well as the Medical Charities Act, requiring the attendance of the Inspectors at Boards of Guardians, the exercise of their powers of inquiry, and the duty of reporting the result thereof to the Commissioners.

The Commissioners are not aware that there is in the English Poor Law Department anything analogous to that part of the duty of an Irish Poor Law District Inspector, which exists in regard to the Fever Hospitals and Dispensary Buildings, and the operations under the Burial Grounds and Sanitary Acts in Ireland.

Having thus shown that the number of unions in his district is not the same measure of the extent of an Inspector's duty in Ireland that it is in England, the Commissioners proceed to mention a very important difference in the administration of the Poor Law in the two countries, which appears to them to have a material bearing on the present question.

The powers of the Irish Poor Law Commissioners resemble, in most respects, those possessed by the Poor Law Board in England, but there is one provision in the Irish Poor Law which casts upon the Central authority in Ireland a greater responsibility than that which devolves on the same authority in England. The provision alluded to empowers the Commissioners to dissolve any Board of Guardians which may have made serious default in the administration of relief, and to appoint paid officers, usually called Vice-Guardians, to perform the duties instead. During the famine period, no less than thirty-nine unions, or about one-fourth of the then number (viz., 130) were dealt with in this way. But the jealousy of Parliament was justly awakened by every new instance of this mode of superseding the representative system of local management; and since the year 1849, no such dissolution of a Board of Guardians has taken place, although the power itself, without being actually exercised, has sometimes operated as a force kept in reserve, and compelled a reluctant Board of Guardians to carry out effectually the intentions of the Legislature.

The Central Board, however, in abstaining from the exercise of this power, has felt constrained to protect itself from the responsibility which its possession creates, by maintaining a constant and uniform supervision of all the proceedings of every Board of Guardians in Ireland, and it is in this department of its business that it derives far greater value from the services of its Inspectors than can by possibility be the case in England.

The supervision above referred to is effected in ways which would scarcely be practicable in England.

In England it would be difficult, and perhaps unnecessary, that the Central authority should possess a general and minute knowledge of the proceedings of all the Boards of Guardians in England and Wales. The action of the Poor Law Board is accordingly, for the most part, limited to what is reported to them by their Inspectors, or what arises in special correspondence with the Guardians, or what is brought under their notice by third parties, in the way of complaint or otherwise.

In Ireland all the proceedings of every Board of Guardians are made known to the Commissioners by copies of the minutes of each weekly meeting. If anything goes wrong therefore in Ireland the Commissioners become directly responsible, and this, as already observed, is necessarily the case; for as the Commissioners possess the power of dissolving a Board of Guardians and appointing Vice-Guardians, a power which they are very unwilling to exercise, their best security for avoiding it lies in a thorough knowledge of all that is being done, and in the practice of having whatever is wrong at once corrected. This business is carried on in a great measure by means of the services of the District Inspector, to whom the weekly minutes of each union are sent by post after examination in the Dublin office, for any suggestion or additional information which he can supply upon every matter marked therein for consideration.

Not only the minutes of the proceedings of the Boards of Guardians but the current statistics of pauperism and expenditure, including the collection of the poor rates (which in England it would be impossible to supervise effectually) is brought under the constant supervision of the Central Board and its Inspectors.

In conclusion the Commissioners may be permitted to say that this system of action has been attended by success, and that the Boards of Guardians are, almost without exception, in amicable relations with the Commissioners and ready in all difficulties to be guided by their assistance and advice, and that in maintaining this very desirable state of things the constant intercourse kept up between the Boards of Guardians and the Inspectors contributes in a very especial degree.

The Commissioners trust that in making this representation to His Excellency they may have succeeded in communicating the impression which they themselves sincerely entertain, to the effect that the duties of an Irish Inspector are as extensive, and his services as valuable to the public as those of an English Inspector. The business is at all events of as high a character and as engrossing to an active and intelligent mind; and if the reasons assigned in the Treasury letter for a difference of salary have any weight after this explanation, it could be only to imply that the number of Inspectors in Ireland is more than sufficient for the duty, in which view, however, the Commissioners after long experience are not prepared to acquiesce.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Right Hon. C. P. Fortescue, M.P.,
&c., &c., Dublin Castle.

* The month of January includes cases which occurred in the previous year, and were still under treatment in January.

† The registry of cases in a few of the Unions does not distinguish whether the disease first arose in or out of the Workhouse; the numbers in these columns do not therefore agree with the number in the previous column, showing the total number of cases.

Notes on Columns headed "Result."—From the nature of the headings under the general term "Result," some cases are necessarily twice entered; and consequently the numbers in the several Columns exceed the total entered in the first Column; and even that total must be regarded as indicating a greater prevalence of the disease than has actually existed, inasmuch as the number of cases is usually given by the Medical Officers in their Reports without reference to the fact that the same person may have been under treatment on more than one occasion during the year, thus showing a number of cases greater than the number of persons treated. The extent of this variation is of course much greater where, as in the case of the last Census Report, the Returns for a series of years are added together.

Also as regards Columns headed "One eye lost," "Both eyes lost."—These columns include many cases in which the sight was lost before admission into the Workhouse.

APPENDIX C.

ORDERS AND CIRCULARS OF INSTRUCTIONS ISSUED UNDER THE MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT, THE VACCINA- TION ACTS, AND THE SANITARY ACTS.

I. ORDERS.

GENERAL RULES for the GOVERNMENT of DISPENSARY DISTRICTS, and for the performance of Vaccination.

To the GUARDIANS of the POOR of the several Unions named in the Schedule hereunto annexed, and the CLERKS thereof; to the COMMITTEES of MANAGEMENT of Dispensary Districts therein; to the OFFICERS of such Districts; and to all others whom it may concern:

WHEREAS in exercise of the powers vested in Us by an Act passed in the fifteenth year of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act to provide for the better Distribution, Support, and Management of Medical Charities in Ireland, and to amend an Act of the eleventh year of Her Majesty to provide for the Execution of the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland," we, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, by Orders under our Seal, have declared the Dispensary districts formed under the said Act, in the several Unions named in the Schedule annexed to this Order:

And whereas by a General Order dated the 16th day of December, 1853, we did in pursuance of the powers vested in us by the said recited Act, frame and issue certain General Rules and Regulations for the Government of each Dispensary District, and for the Guidance and Control of the Guardians, the Committees of Management, and the several Officers to be appointed in connexion therewith, respectively; and by certain other General Orders, bearing date respectively the 10th day of October, 1862, the 6th day of January, 1863, and the 26th day of November, 1864, we did alter the said General Regulations in certain particulars in the said orders specified.

And whereas by certain other General Orders bearing date respectively the 23rd day of September, 1858, and the 29th day of January, 1864, we did in pursuance of the provisions of an Act passed in the twenty-second year of the reign of Her Majesty, intituled "An Act to make further provision for the practice of Vaccination in Ireland," make and issue certain Regulations relating to Vaccination in the several Dispensary Districts.

And whereas we deem it expedient to alter, amend, and consolidate the general rules and regulations contained in the said recited orders.

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers vested in us, we do hereby revoke and rescind so much of every Order or General Order heretofore issued by and under the Seal of the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, to any of the unions named in the Schedule hereto annexed, and now in force as is in any way repugnant to, or at variance with, the rules and regulations herein contained, except so far as the same may have related to the appointment of any of the existing officers, and except as to any other proceeding already taken, or matter or thing already done, under such Order.

And we do hereby order, direct, and declare, with respect to each of the unions named in the said schedule, and each Dispensary District formed therein under the said Act, as follows :—

Committee of Management.

Article 1.—Immediately on the completion of a new Committee of Management for each Dispensary District after each annual election of Guardians in the union, the clerk of the union shall make a return in the form No. 1, annexed to this order, to us the said Commissioners, of the names and addresses of the respective members of the Committee; and in like manner, on any election by the Board of Guardians of a rate-payer or rate-payers to fill any vacancy or vacancies in any such Committee, the clerk shall make a return to us, in the Form No. 2, annexed to this order.

Article 2.—The Clerk of the union shall, on the appointment of a new Committee as aforesaid, send to each member of the Committee for every Dispensary District, a notice in the annexed form No. 3; and on the election of any rate-payer to supply a vacancy at any time in any of the said Committees, the clerk shall send to him a notice in the annexed form No. 4.

Article 3.—Immediately upon the completion of any new Committee as aforesaid, the Clerk of the union shall furnish each Medical Officer with a list, according to the annexed form, No. 5, of the names and residences of all persons entitled to give tickets for medical relief in his district, that is to say, of the members of the Committee, and of every Relieving Officer and Warden acting as such for any electoral division included in such district; and the Medical Officer shall lay such list before the Committee of Management at their first meeting after receipt thereof. And the Clerk shall in like manner notify, from time to time, any changes, from death or otherwise, of members of the Committee of Management, Relieving Officers, or Wardens, in any districts, to the respective medical officers thereof, who shall lay such notification before the Committee of Management at their first meeting after receipt thereof.

Article 4.—After the completion of the Committee in each year, the Clerk of the union shall prepare a notice specifying the persons and their residences to whom application may be made for tickets for medical relief, the situation of the dispensary or dispensary stations in the district, the days and hours of attendance at each, the name and residence of the medical officer, the days and hours when the medical officer will attend at each of the places within such dispensary district appointed by the Committee for the purpose of Vaccination, and such other particulars of the dispensary arrangements as may be necessary to afford due facility for obtaining medical relief and vaccination where requisite. Such notice shall be in the form N, annexed to this order; and a copy shall be posted at each dispensary in the district, and at such other places in the district as may be necessary for the due notification of the dispensary arrangements. The Clerk shall also cause a notice board, in the form O, to be kept conspicuously painted and affixed on the exterior of each dispensary in the district, showing the days and hours of attendance of the medical officer.

Article 5.—Whenever any person ceases to be a member of the Committee, or a warden, or a relieving officer, the Clerk of the union shall transmit to him a notice in the form No. 6, hereto annexed, apprising him of the cessation of his power to issue tickets for medical relief and requiring him to return to the Board of Guardians any forms of the tickets for medical relief, which had been issued to him in the medical relief ticket check books (forms E 1 and E 2, hereinafter mentioned), and which may not have been used.

Meetings of the Committee.

Article 6.—At the first meeting of the committee of each district after the annual appointment of a new committee, they shall elect from their own body a Chairman and Vice-Chairman, each of whom shall continue to act as such until the appointment of a new committee, unless he shall previously die, resign, or become incapable or disqualified by ceasing to be a member of the committee. And if a Chairman or Vice-Chairman die, resign his office, or become incapable or disqualified as aforesaid to act as such Chairman or Vice-Chairman before the expiration of the term of office for which he was appointed, the committee shall, within one month after the occurrence of such death, resignation, incapacity or disqualification, elect some other member of the committee to such office.

Article 7.—The committee shall at their first meeting after each annual appointment of a new committee, and afterwards from time to time on the occurrence of any vacancy, appoint, from their own body, an Honorary Secretary and an Honorary Assistant Secretary, who shall continue to hold their respective offices during the pleasure of the committee, or until death, resignation, or disqualification by ceasing to be a member of the committee:—Provided that on the termination of the year of office of the committee, the Secretary and Assistant Secretary, if they continue members thereof, respectively, need not be re-elected by the committee, but shall continue to act as Secretary or Assistant Secretary, unless any other appointment to either of those offices be made by the committee.

Article 8.—The committee shall hold ordinary meetings from time to time, at the dispensary or one of the dispensaries of the district, on such day of the week and at such hour as may be fixed by the committee, but not less frequently than once in each fortnight or once in each calendar month, as the committee with the sanction of the Commissioners, may determine; and the time fixed for the ordinary meetings of the committee shall be reported to the Commissioners; and the committee may adjourn any meeting to any day earlier than the next ordinary day of meeting, if they shall deem it necessary to do so.

Article 9.—The committee may, when they think fit, with the sanction of the Commissioners, change the day or hour for their ordinary meetings, and shall cause any such change to be reported to the Commissioners.

Article 10.—At every meeting of the committee, the chairman, or in his absence, the vice-chairman, shall preside; but if at the commencement of any meeting the chairman and vice-chairman be absent, the members present shall elect one of themselves to preside at such meeting as chairman thereof.

Article 11.—An extraordinary meeting of the committee may be summoned to be held at any time, upon the requisition of any two members of the committee, addressed to the secretary or assistant secretary of the committee. Every such requisition shall be made in writing, and may be according to the form A, hereunto annexed; and no business, other than the business specified in the said requisition, shall be transacted at such extraordinary meeting. Provided that the chairman or vice-chairman, together with the secretary or assistant secretary, may, by a notice in Form B, hereunto annexed, summon an extraordinary meeting when deemed necessary by them, without a previous requisition from any other members of the committee; and an extraordinary meeting shall be summoned by any one of these officers on being required by the Commissioners to summon such meeting.

Article 12.—At every meeting of the committee, the secretary, or in his absence the assistant secretary, or in the absence of both, some member of the committee to be appointed secretary pro tempore, shall record the proceedings of the committee in a Minute Book to be provided for that purpose: and he shall conduct the necessary correspondence and business of the committee in accordance with their directions; and shall provide for the safe custody, at the dispensary, of the books, papers, documents, and correspondence of the committee, except the books hereinafter directed to be kept by the medical officer, which are to be kept in his custody at the dispensary, and to be laid before the committee at their ordinary meetings from time to time.

Article 13.—Notice of every change in the time or place of holding any ordinary meeting, and notice of the adjournment of any meeting, and notice of any extraordinary meeting, shall be given in writing to every member of the committee. Every such notice shall be respectively according to the Forms B, C, D, hereunto annexed, and shall be given or sent to every member of the committee, or be left at his place of abode, two days, if practicable, before the day appointed for the meeting to which it relates; but if any case of emergency should arise, requiring that an Extraordinary Meeting of the committee should immediately take place, notice shall nevertheless be given to as many of the members of the committee as may be practicable; and they shall meet at the ordinary place of meeting, and take such case into consideration.

Proceedings of the Committee.

Article 14.—Every question at any meeting of the committee shall be determined by a majority of the votes of the members present thereat and voting on the question; and when there shall be an equal number of votes on any question, such question shall be deemed to have been lost.

Article 15.—The Presiding Chairman shall be entitled to give one vote upon each question that may be submitted to the committee; but he shall not under any circumstances be entitled to give any additional or casting vote.

Article 16.—At every ordinary meeting of the committee, the business shall be conducted as follows:—

i. The Minutes of the last ordinary meeting, and of any other meeting which may have been held since such ordinary meeting, signed by the Chairman of the meeting, shall be read to the Committee; and an entry of the same having been so read, shall be made in the Minutes of the day when read.

iv. Provided also, that the above qualification shall not be necessary in the case of any person holding the office of Medical Officer of a Dispensary District at the date hereof, either in respect of his present appointment or any such future appointment, or in the case of any person who shall at any time previously to his appointment as Medical Officer of a Dispensary District have held office in any Union in Ireland, either as Medical Officer of a Dispensary, or Medical Officer of a Workhouse, having been duly qualified for such office at such previous time.

Duties of Medical Officer.

Article 21.—The duties of every medical officer of a Dispensary District under the said Act, shall be as follows; that is to say:—

MEDICAL RELIEF.

i. He shall attend at the Dispensary of the District or division of a District under his charge, on such days and at such hours as the Committee of Management may direct, for the purpose of affording medical relief to any poor person applying for the same, and presenting a ticket as hereinafter provided, and for the Vaccination of all persons who may come to him for the purpose.

ii. He shall duly and punctually attend, either at the Dispensary during the appointed hours for attendance thereat, or at the home of the party on whose behalf application is made or elsewhere, as the case may require, and supply all requisite medical and surgical advice and assistance to every poor person in the District or Division of a District under his charge, whom he shall be required to attend as Medical Officer, by a ticket, signed by a member of the Committee of Management of the Dispensary District, or by a Relieving Officer or Warden, acting for any Electoral Division included in such District; and shall continue his attendance until such attendance is no longer required, or until the ticket be cancelled; such tickets being in the Form E 1, annexed to this order, when medical relief is required to be given at the Dispensary only, and in the Form E 2, annexed to this order when medical relief is required to be given at the home of the patient or elsewhere; and all such tickets received by the Medical Officer shall be filed by him at the Dispensary, the number of the case in the Register (Form F), being marked by him on the face of each ticket, before filing it, and shall be preserved for a period of at least two years.

ii. In every case in which application shall be made to him for medical relief, other than vaccination, he shall require to be furnished with a ticket signed by some person authorized to grant it, and shall not afford medicine or medical appliances, except in urgent cases, before the ticket has been presented.

iv. He shall give a written certificate under his hand to the committee of management, or the Board of Guardians, or the relieving officer, when called upon to do so, of the state of health of any dispensary patient attended by him, and of such patient's fitness or unfitness to be removed to any Union hospital, as the case may be.

v. He shall keep and duly enter up the medical relief register according to the Form F, hereto annexed, and submit the same to the committee of management at each ordinary meeting.

Provided, however, that in any case where the medical officer of the dispensary district is also the Registrar of Births and Deaths for the district, it shall not be necessary for him to insert in the said vaccination register Form G, any cases which he may have duly entered in the register of vaccination which he is required to keep in pursuance of the 7th section of the Act of the 26 & 27 Vic., cap. 52, intitled "An Act to further extend, and make compulsory the practice of vaccination in Ireland."

ix. He shall inspect all persons vaccinated by him on the eighth day after vaccination, and also on such other days as he may deem necessary.

x. The report which he is required by the said Act of the twenty-first and twenty-second years of Her Majesty, to make to the committee of management, of all persons successfully vaccinated by him, shall be made by him in the Form H hereto annexed, and the register (Form G), referred to therein, shall be open at all reasonable times to inspection by any member of the Board of Guardians or dispensary committee.

xi. He shall forward to the Board of Guardians on the 30th day of June, and the 31st day of December in each year, a report in the Form P, hereto annexed, containing the names of all children registered as born in the district, who are over six months of age and who do not appear to have been vaccinated.

REPORT-BOOK AND RETURNS.

xii. He shall submit to the committee at each ordinary meeting, his Report-book (Form I), in which he shall enter the time of his arrival at and departure from the dispensary, on each of the days appointed for his attendance thereat, and also any matter which he may deem it necessary to bring under the notice of the committee, who will take into their consideration any entry which shall have been made therein since the last meeting.

xiii. If there be within his district, a bridewell or house of correction which he is required by the said Act to attend, he shall submit to the committee at each ordinary meeting, in the Form K, hereto annexed, an account of any medicines supplied to prisoners and inmates in such bridewell or house of correction.

xiv. He shall forward a return, in the annexed Form L, to the Commissioners, for each of the quarters ending respectively the 31st day of March, the 30th day of June, the 30th day of September, and the 31st day of December, or for and at such other periods as may be from time to time directed by the Commissioners; such returns shall be forwarded immediately after the close of the quarter, or other period for which they are directed to be made and a copy thereof shall be laid before the committee of management at their next ordinary meeting.

xv. He shall make such returns appertaining to the duties of his office as may be from time to time required of him by the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, or by the Committee of Management or the Board of Guardians.

Article 22.—If a medical officer of a dispensary district be temporarily incapacitated, by illness or other cause, from performing his duties, he shall immediately, if practicable, communicate with the chairman or honorary secretary of the committee, and shall recommend to the committee a medical practitioner qualified as hereinbefore provided (in Article 20), to perform his duties during such temporary incapacity. And on the fact of the medical officer's incapacity becoming known a special meeting of the committee shall be at once called, in accordance with Article 13 of this order, for the purpose of appointing a temporary substitute for the medical officer; and the committee shall report the circumstances of the case to the Board of Guardians, who shall, subject to the approval of the Commissioners, determine the amount of remuneration, if any, to be paid to the temporary substitute. And for the time during which such temporary substitute, appointed by the committee of management, shall act as medical officer, he shall perform all the duties of the medical officer, and shall duly enter up the books of the dispensary for such time before any remuneration that may be agreed upon be paid to him.

Article 23.—In case of the death or resignation of a medical officer, the committee of management shall, in like manner as provided in Article 22, make provision for the performance of the duties of medical officer by a person duly qualified in accordance with Article 20, until the appointment of a medical officer shall have been duly made, in accordance with Articles 18 and 19 of this order, and approved by the Commissioners.

BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

Article 28.—The Board of Guardians shall on receipt of the estimates of the requirements of each dispensary in the Union, from time to time, and the requisition of the committee of management thereon, or of the medical officer in the case hereinbefore provided for, cause the necessary supplies to be immediately furnished for the use of such dispensary, and shall at the same time cause a duplicate copy of the invoice received from the com-tractor on each occasion to be forwarded to the medical officer, to be by him filed and preserved for reference at the dispensary.

Article 29.—The Board of Guardians shall from time to time as may be necessary, cause to be provided a sufficient supply of books, stationery, and forms prescribed by this or any other Order under our seal, and all other requisites, for the use of each committee of management: and shall also cause a sufficient number of check-books of medical relief tickets, according to the annexed Forms E 1 and E 2, to be provided, and cause a sufficient supply of such check-books to be furnished to each member of every dispensary committee in the union, and to each relieving officer and warden therein.

Article 30.—The Board of Guardians shall include in their half-yearly accounts of expenditure, all expenses incurred for the service of each dispensary district in the union, for the half-year, charging the same to the several electoral divisions comprised in the district, according to the net annual value of the rateable property in each division, as set forth in the last preceding rate for the relief of the poor.

No. 1.—ANNUAL APPOINTMENT of DISPENSARY COMMITTEES and WARDENS.

Poor Law Commission Office,
Dublin, 31st March, 1870.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to call your attention to their circular of the 21st of March, 1862, relating to the annual appointment of Dispensary Committees and Wardens, and to the extracts from previous circulars, appended thereto; and they request that you will take the necessary steps, as pointed out in the circular referred to, to place before the Board of Guardians, after the annual Election, a correct List of the Members of the Board entitled to be Members of the respective Dispensary Committees in the Union.

THIS OUGHT TO BE DONE BY DISTINCT RESOLUTION AND RECORDED ON THE MINUTES.

As soon as the Committee shall have been completed for any Dispensary District, the Guardians should fix a day for the first meeting of such Committee, for the special purpose of appointing their Honorary Officers for the current year, in accordance with Articles 5 and 6 of the Dispensary Regulations, and you should give notice thereof to each member of the Dispensary Committee, in accordance with Articles 10 and 12 of the Dispensary Regulations.

A form for the Return of Officers of the several Dispensary Committees in the Union will be forwarded to you in due course.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of the Board of Guardians of each Union.

No. 2.—APPOINTMENT of COMMITTEES under SANITARY ACTS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin.

28th April, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland having reason to believe that in some instances Boards of Guardians have not, since the recent Annual Election of Guardians, re-appointed Committees under the Sewage Utilization Act, and the Nuisances Removal Act, and as some of the members of the Committees which were formerly appointed may not continue to be qualified, not being any longer Guardians of the Union, the Commissioners desire to draw the attention of the Board of Guardians to the subject, as it appears desirable that these Committees should be appointed in the same manner as the Dispensary Committees after each annual election of Guardians.

The Commissioners annex, for the information of the Board of Guardians, a copy of their circular letter of the 30th March, 1867, in which they pointed out the constitution and the functions of each of the three different Committees that may be appointed under the Sanitary Acts, and of the two circulars, dated respectively the 17th October and the 5th December, 1866, which are therein referred to.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 42.—M/67.—Miscellaneous.

Committees under Sanitary Act.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
30th March, 1867.

Sir,

The Election of Guardians for the current year in the several Unions being now completed, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland think it right to draw the attention of the Board of Guardians to the propriety of re-appointing Committees, under the provisions of the Sanitary Act, 1866, for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the Sewage Utilization Act and the Nuisances Removal Acts.

On this subject the Commissioners desire to refer the Board of Guardians to their Circular Letter of the 17th October last, by which it will be seen that the Act contemplates three distinct Committees, viz. :—

1. The Sanitary Committee, which is in fact the Dispensary Committee of the District, and whose functions as Sanitary Committee under the Diseases Prevention Act are only called into action when an Order in Council under that Act is in force (29 & 30 Vic., c. 90, sec. 68).
2. The Committee of the Nuisance Authority, the action of which is continuous, and which must consist exclusively of members of the body by which it is appointed, that is, members of the Board of Guardians where the Board is the Nuisance Authority (18 & 19 Vic., c. 121, sec. 5; and 23 & 24 Vic., c. 77, sec. 5).
3. The Committee of the Sewer Authority, the action of which is also continuous, and which must be appointed at a Meeting specially convened for the purpose, and may consist partly of Ratepayers (28 & 29 Vic., c. 90, sec. 4).

The Guardians may appoint one or more Committees for each of the purposes above mentioned (Nos. 2 and 3), and the Commissioners recommend the Guardians to take the subject into consideration with a view to appointing Nuisance and Sewer Committees for such parts of the Union as are not within the jurisdiction of another Sewer and Nuisance Authority; and the Commissioners think it might be advisable to consider the propriety of dividing the Union into Districts consisting of Electoral Divisions for these purposes and appointing Committees for each District.

The Commissioners enclose another copy of the circular of the 17th October last, above referred to, and also a copy of another circular, dated the 5th December, on the subject of appointing Sanitary Inspectors, to which the attention of the Guardians is requested.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 125.—M/66.

Mode of Charging Expenses under Sanitary Act.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
17th October, 1866.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward herewith a General Order issued by them under the provisions of the Sanitary Act, 1866, prescribing the mode in which certain items of expenditure, incurred under the authority of that Act, are to be charged in the accounts of the Board of Guardians. Such expenditure may be incurred either directly by the Board of Guardians, or through the agency of some Committee appointed either for the purposes of the Sewage Utilization Act, the Nuisances Removal Acts, or the Diseases Prevention Act.

It is of much importance that the functions of these several Committees should be exercised by the body to which they legally belong, and by no other; for not only might the legality of expenditure, conducted by a wrong agency, be brought in question, but the area of chargeability, as will be seen by the terms of the Scaled Order, will depend on the question, under what provision of the law, and through what particular agency, it has taken place.

In order to avoid confusion, as far as practicable, the Commissioners have defined the agency of the Dispensary Committee of Management to be that of "The Sanitary Committee," whose function is to assist the Guardians in carrying out the purposes of the "Diseases Prevention Act," when Cholera is in the Union. Any Committee appointed by the Guardians, acting as Sewer Authority, should, therefore, for distinction's sake, as well as in conformity with the language of the Act of Parliament, be called, not the "Sanitary Committee," but the "Sewer Committee" of the Union, or other District within the Union for which it may be appointed. Similarly, and for the same reasons, any Committee appointed by the Guardians, acting as Nuisance Authority under the Nuisances Removal Acts, should be called the "Nuisance Committee" for the Union, or other District within the Union for which it may be appointed.

None of these Committees are accounting bodies, but agents merely, acting for the Board of Guardians who must account with the Electoral Divisions of the Union for expenditure conducted through such agencies, in the same way as for expenditure directly incurred by the Board itself; such expenditure being subject to the inspection and authority of the Auditor of the Union, in the same manner as the Poor Law Relief Expenditure.

It is desirable, therefore, that as far as possible, the sums expended under the Sanitary Act should be paid by order of the Board of Guardians, by cheque on their Treasurer, to the parties entitled to receive them.

If under any sudden emergency or necessity of an urgent kind, cash should be placed at the disposal of a Committee, or any member or members thereof, it will at once be apparent that proper vouchers for the disbursement of all sums should be obtained and preserved, and finally deposited with the Clerk of the Union, for the purpose of being submitted to the Auditor when auditing the accounts.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 168.—M/66.—Miscellaneous.

Sanitary Inspectors.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
5th December, 1866.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have observed that the Guardians of many Unions which have not yet been attacked by Cholera, or in which Cholera, having broken out, appears no longer likely to prevail, have shown a disposition to lessen their expenditure under the Sanitary Act of 1866, by discontinuing the services of Inspectors of Nuisances, or Sanitary Inspectors as they are sometimes called.

The fact that the present invasion of Cholera commenced almost at the same time with the introduction of the new Sanitary Law, may, perhaps, have given rise to a supposition, that when the one is disappearing the other ceases to be necessary.

No doubt, on the disappearance of the epidemic from Ireland, and the withdrawal or termination of the Order in Council, and of the sealed Order of the Commissioners relating to treatment and prevention of the spread of the disease, all expenses of an extraordinary nature incurred under the provisions of the latter Order will also cease, inasmuch as, in fact, they could not continue to be legally incurred.

But the provisions of the Sanitary Act are not directed against Cholera alone, but against every description of dangerous contagious disease, especially the more fatal kinds of fever, which, although not now epidemic, are always prevailing more or less in the country with fatal effects, and may at any time become epidemic.

These diseases are promoted in the same way as Cholera, by the impurity of the air, more especially of that within the dwelling-house, and by the use of impure water, unwholesome food, and other like causes.

The removal of nuisances, the maintenance of proper drainage, the supply of pure water to the population of towns and villages, and the prevention of over-crowding in dwelling-houses, are objects which the Legislature has determined shall henceforward be continuously carried out for the security of the public health, and has, therefore, created permanent powers and imposed permanent responsibilities for that purpose; and there is no Union in Ireland in which, henceforth, it will not be necessary for the Guardians to employ at all times one or more Inspectors of Nuisance, in order to enable them to carry out continuously and permanently these objects of the Legislature.

The office of Inspector of Nuisances will necessarily vary much as to the extent of its duties, and the amount of remuneration for their performance according to the circumstances of the district. In some cases it may be proper to employ a person devoting himself wholly to the office; in other cases especially in rural districts, Relieving Officers, or other Officers under the control of the Guardians can be invested with the duties; but in the opinion of the Commissioners all territory which is within the district of the Guardians, as a Sewer or Nuisance Authority, should be under some person having authority to act as an Inspector of Nuisances, and responsible for reporting to the Guardians every case requiring any exercise of their powers either as Sewer or Nuisance Authority.

In the discharge of their Sanitary duties, the Guardians must be prepared to encounter some additional annual expenditure from the Poor-rates; but whenever epidemic disease is not present, the ordinary sanitary expenses will be found to be only a light additional burden, and it must be borne in mind that the continuous and permanent powers, if properly exercised, will obviate the more expensive arrangements which it would become necessary to adopt in the presence of epidemic disease.

By order of the Commissioners,

F. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 3.—IRREGULARITIES in regard to MEDICAL RELIEF.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
3rd September, 1869.

SIR,

The attention of the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland has been drawn to the irregular manner in which Medical Relief has been dispensed in some Dispensary Districts, and the imperfect way in which the Register of cases relieved has been kept by some of the Medical Officers.

In the Districts referred to a practice appears to have prevailed of affording Medical treatment to sick persons without requiring them to procure and present tickets from any of the several persons authorized to give them. In some of these instances the Medical Officer registers the case, and in others the case is altogether omitted from the Dispensary Records.

Where the Medical Officer has adopted the latter course, the returns furnished to the Commissioners from the Registers have not correctly represented the number of persons who had obtained relief under the Medical Charities Act, and in both classes of cases the medicines belonging to the Union have been improperly made use of, there being no authority to dispense those medicines without a ticket.

The Commissioners think it right, therefore, to point out specially to each Dispensary Medical Officer that the practice of giving Medical relief without the production of a ticket signed by a person duly entitled to give tickets for medical relief under the Medical Charities Act is irregular, and not authorized by the provisions of that Act.

Cases of urgency may occur in which the delay necessary to obtain a ticket might be of serious consequence, and in cases which are of this description the Medical Officer will act at once on his own responsibility; but in such instances he ought to require the applicants to procure tickets, and present them as soon afterwards as possible.

In ordinary cases there can be no difficulty in obtaining a ticket from a member of the Dispensary Committee, or a Relieving Officer, or a Warden, and the Commissioners trust that the irregular practices which have been pointed out, in whatever localities they may have prevailed, will be hereafter discontinued.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To each Dispensary Medical Officer.

No. 6.—CESSATION of SMALL-POX in IRELAND.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

20th September, 1869.

SIR,

Adverting to their circular letter of the 23rd February last, on the subject of the diminution of Small-pox in Ireland, as shown by the Returns for the years 1867 and 1868, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, request the attention of the Boards of Guardians of Unions to the Quarterly Returns of the Registrar-General for the two first quarters of the year 1869, from which, and from the absence of any report for several months past of any case of Small-pox, the Commissioners infer with confidence that that disease is now no longer existing in the country.

The introduction of Small-pox into Castlebar Union, by an inoculator at the close of the year 1868, was, as stated in the last Annual Report, followed by 67 cases of attack and four deaths in that Union. Two of these four deaths and one other death in Belfast Union, are all the deaths from Small-pox which were returned to the Registrar-General for the quarter ended on the 31st March last. Independently of Castlebar Union, there were only seven cases of attack, none of them fatal, during the quarter ended 30th June last, viz., four in Ballymena Union, one in South Dublin Union, and two in Belfast Union. The Returns of the Registrar-General for the quarter ended 30th June last contain no death from Small-pox; and the Dispensary Medical Officers have reported no case of Small-pox as having occurred since June last.

How far the present immunity of Ireland from this fatal scourge may be due to the working of the Vaccination laws, and whether it may be due in some degree also to the improved sanitary condition of the people, and the general absence of epidemic disease, is a question which may be left for solution to the further progress of events.

It is encouraging, however, to observe that the present total cessation of the disease in Ireland has been gradually approached since the compulsory Vaccination of children has been put in force under the Act of 1863, the annual mortality by Small-pox having been for many years previously about 1,000 deaths on the average, representing, of course, a very much larger number of cases of attack and disfigurement. The course of decrease in the mortality has been as follows: in 1864, the number of deaths was 854; in 1865, 347; in 1866, 187; in 1867, 20; in 1868, 19; in the first quarter of 1869, 3; and in the second quarter, none.

Whether or not Small-pox still remains dormant in the country, and may be expected again to break out under less favourable circumstances, it is quite clear that every part of Ireland is at all times exposed to the introduction of the disease, either accidentally or by design, and therefore that the only security lies in a steady maintenance everywhere of the protective means afforded by Vaccination.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

NO. 7.—CESSATION of SMALL-POX in IRELAND.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
20th September, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you herewith, for the information of the Committee of Management of the Dispensary District, a copy of a Circular Letter which the Commissioners have addressed to the several Boards of Guardians on the subject of the Cessation of Small-pox in Ireland.

The Commissioners have forwarded a copy of the enclosed circular to each Medical Officer, and have requested him to report at once any case of Small-pox which may at any time hereafter come within the sphere of his observation, whether in dispensary practice or in private practice, or otherwise.

The Commissioners at the same time request the attention of the Committee to the great importance of continued attention to the due and effectual carrying out of the provisions of the Vaccination Acts, in order to ensure to the utmost possible extent the benefits of the protection afforded to the community by Vaccination.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Honorary Secretary of the Committee of Management of each Dispensary District.

NO. 8.—CESSATION of SMALL-POX in IRELAND.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
20th September, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit herewith, for your information, a copy of a Circular Letter which they have addressed to the several Boards of Guardians on the subject of the Cessation of Small-pox in Ireland.

In drawing your attention to the very satisfactory statements contained in the enclosed circular, the Commissioners have to express their reliance on your continued attention to the due and effectual carrying out of the provisions of the Vaccination Acts, and thus ensuring to the utmost possible extent the benefits of the protection afforded to the community by Vaccination.

The Commissioners at the same time request that you will be so good as to report at once to them any case of Small-pox that may at any time hereafter come within your sphere of observation, whether in dispensary practice or in your private practice, or otherwise.

It is more important, perhaps, now than ever that the source of contagion should, in every such case, be ascertained if possible.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To each Workhouse and Dispensary
Medical Officer.

No. 9.—SMALL-POX.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

21st December, 1869.

SIR,

Adverting to their Circular Letter of the 20th September, last,* and to previous circulars on the subject of the diminution and cessation of Small-pox, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have the satisfaction to state that the Registrar-General's Quarterly Return for the Quarter ended the 30th September last does not record any death from Small-pox in Ireland.

With regard to the current quarter, it appeared by the Registrar-General's Return for the week ended 20th November last that one death had occurred from Small-pox in the Metropolitan Registration District, the first which had occurred therein for upwards of two years. This case proved upon inquiry to be that of a sailor who was taken, in fully developed Small-pox, from on board a Swedish schooner recently arrived in the Liffey from a port in the Baltic, and who was conveyed to the Hardwicke Hospital for treatment, where he died.

This is the only death from Small-pox during the current quarter of which any information has reached the Commissioners. They were made aware, however, on the 30th November last, that a case of Small-pox was under dispensary treatment at Maynooth, by a special report from the medical Officer of that district. The contagion in this case was traced to the Hardwicke Hospital, where the patient had been under treatment for another disease—Erysipelas; and in the course of the inquiry it appeared that, besides the case of the Swedish sailor, there was a young woman then convalescent from Small-pox who had been brought into the hospital from the Royal Barracks.

The only other case reported to the Commissioners as having occurred since the date of the circular of the 20th September last, was that of Joseph Wilson, at Belfast, who had come from Liverpool Workhouse to Dublin, and had gone on tramp from thence to Belfast, and who declared that he had slept at several Workhouses on the way. No Small-pox, however, had appeared in those Workhouses, nor could it be discovered in what way Wilson contracted the disease, though he seems to have been under the impression himself that he took the infection in Liverpool Workhouse.

Under existing circumstances, the Commissioners consider it of much importance to trace every case which may arise to its source if practicable, and they trust that information may be promptly furnished to them of any case which may arise in any part of the union. The liability to invasion by Small-pox, as above described, shows the necessity for maintaining Vaccination through the country, and of a strict enforcement of the Compulsory Act.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of the Union.

21st December, 1869.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit herewith, for your information, a copy of a Circular Letter which they have addressed to the several Boards of Guardians on the subject of the cessation of Small-pox in Ireland.

In drawing your attention to the very satisfactory statements contained in the enclosed Circular, as well as to those contained in previous Circulars on the same subject, they have to repeat their request that you will be so good as to report at once to them any case of Small-pox that may at any time hereafter come within your sphere of observation, whether in Dispensary practice or in your private practice, or otherwise.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk

To each Workhouse and Dispensary Medical Officer.

No. 12.—SMALL-POX.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
8th March, 1870.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to state, for the information of the Board of Guardians, that since their Circular on Small-pox, dated 21st December, 1869,* another quarter has expired, and that the Registrar-General has obligingly informed them, in anticipation of the Quarterly Return, which is not yet published, that only one death was registered in the quarter ended 31st December; that, namely, of the Swedish sailor referred to in the last Circular.

It appears, however, that during the previous quarter two deaths took place, one of which is registered as that of a child one year old, "chicken-pox, one week, uncertified," and the other as of a child, "13 weeks old, variola, four weeks, certified."

During the last six months, therefore, of the year 1869 there have been only two deaths registered as from small-pox and one from chicken-pox; one of the small-pox cases having occurred in a schooner from the Baltic, the disease having broken out on the voyage.

Since the 21st December, the date of the last Circular, the cases of small-pox reported to the Commissioners as having occurred in Dispensary practice are the following :—

* No. 9, page 197.

1. Castlebar Union—Balla Dispensary District.—Martin Horkan aged 10, recently arrived from Lancashire on a visit to relatives in Mayo.
2. Downpatrick Union—Clough Dispensary District.—Henry Crough, aged 32, mate of a steamship engaged in the coal trade between Whitehaven, and other English and Scotch ports, and Dundrum. He was taken ill while on the voyage from Whitehaven.
3. South Dublin Union—Donnybrook Dispensary District.—Margaret Waters, aged 7 months; there was no trace of the source of contagion in this case.
4. Mitchelstown Union.—James Palmer, aged 25, a private in the 89th Regiment of Foot, quartered in Mitchelstown.

None of these four cases terminated fatally, and in none does the disease appear to have spread, owing, probably, to the effects of vaccination on persons who would otherwise have been exposed to the contagion.

The Guardians will be gratified to find from this information that the comparative immunity of this country from small-pox still continues. They will, at the same time, be placed upon their guard by observing the classes of cases from which danger is always to be apprehended, namely, those of persons arriving already infected by small-pox from various parts of Great Britain or the Continent, and the continued necessity, therefore, for protecting the population from small-pox by means of vaccination.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you herewith, for the information of the Committee of Management of the Dispensary District, a copy of a Circular Letter which the Commissioners have addressed to the several Boards of Guardians on the subject of the Cessation of Small-pox in Ireland.

The Commissioners have forwarded a copy of the enclosed Circular to each Medical Officer, and have repeated their previous request to him to report at once any case of Small-pox which may at any time hereafter come within the sphere of his observation, whether in Dispensary practice or in private practice, or otherwise, and the Commissioners trust that they may receive prompt information of any case which may arise.

NO. 15.—RETURNS OF DEFAULTERS under the COMPULSORY VACCINATION ACT.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
12th March, 1870.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to acquaint you that their attention has been drawn to a supposed difficulty in the preparation of the Medical Officers' report (Form P) of children over six months of age who do not appear to have been vaccinated, in those cases in which the Dispensary Medical Officer is not the Registrar of Births and Deaths, and in which consequently the Register of Births is not in his custody.

The Commissioners have had a correspondence with the Registrar-General on this subject, and at their suggestion he has issued a Circular to those Registrars of Births who are not Dispensary Medical Officers, requesting them to permit the Medical Officer of the Dispensary District to inspect their Registers of Births and Deaths in the months of June and December in each year, or at such other time during office hours as he may apply for permission to do so in order that the names and addresses of parties whose children have not been vaccinated may be ascertained.

A copy of the Circular referred to is enclosed.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To each Inspector.

ENCLOSURE IN NO. 15.

Compulsory Vaccination.

General Register Office,
Dublin, 1870.

SIR,

In consequence of communications addressed to me by the Poor Law Commissioners with a view to the more effectual carrying out of the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act, I have to request that you will in future permit the Medical Officer of the Dispensary District to inspect your Registers of Births and Deaths in the months of June and December in each year, or at such other time during office hours as he may apply to me for permission to do so, in order that the names and addresses of parties whose children have not been vaccinated may be ascertained.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

WILLIAM DONNELLY, Registrar-General

The Registrar of Births and Deaths at

NO. 16.—DISPENSARY REGULATIONS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
18th December, 1869.

SIR,

Adverting to the statement contained in their Circular Letter of the 18th February last, that they had it in contemplation to make some changes in the Dispensary Regulations, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland now transmit to you, to be laid before the Board of Guardians, a Copy of a General Order under their Seal, dated the 29th November, amending and consolidating the General Rules and Regulations in force for the Government of Dispensary Districts and the performance of Vaccination.*

The amended Regulations now issued are substantially the same in most respects as those previously in force, but it is hoped that the fact of the provisions of five different Orders, which were issued at different times as the occasion for them arose, having been now brought together in one Order, and of the various provisions thus consolidated in the present Order, having been arranged under their respective heads more perfectly than heretofore, will facilitate the discharge of the duties of the various persons concerned, in any matters in which a reference to the General Regulations is necessary.

The Commissioners will notice briefly the principal changes which have been made, referring to them as nearly as possible in the order in which they occur in the Consolidated Regulations.

1. Under Article 4, it is made the duty of the Clerk of the Union to prepare the Notice, Form N, and to cause it to be duly posted throughout the district, and also to cause the Notice Board, Form O, to be kept affixed on the exterior of each Dispensary District. This duty has been hitherto assigned to the Dispensary Committee by the Regulations, but practically it has in many instances fallen into the hands of the Clerk of the Union, and in some instances, where this has not been the case, it has been very irregularly and inefficiently performed. The Commissioners think it is a matter of great importance that full and accurate information should at all times be accessible to the public throughout each Dispensary District as to where and how Dispensary relief is to be obtained; and bearing in mind the fact that the Officers of the Committee, into whose hands this duty would naturally fall while it was considered as part of the duty of the Committee, are honorary Officers, it has been considered advisable to relieve them of it, and to place the responsibility upon a paid Officer of the Union, to whom of course the Committee will from time to time communicate any changes which may be made, which may render any alteration in the Notices necessary.

It will be observed that the Form N has been modified so as to comprise both the Dispensary and Vaccination Notices, and the separate Vaccination Notice heretofore required is consequently no longer necessary. A specimen form of placard notice (Form N) is enclosed.

2. Some changes have been made in the Form of Medical Relief Tickets (E 1 and E 2), and in the instructions printed on the ticket-books and tickets. These changes, though slight in themselves, are material in character, their object being to ensure the presentation of tickets as soon after they are obtained as practicable; and, in the case of visiting tickets, to cause every available information to be given to the Medical Officer as to the nature of the case, but so as not to interfere with his responsibility to attend duly and punctually under the statute and under the Dispensary Regulations.

The Commissioners attach much importance to this change, and they strongly recommend that all the existing ticket-books should be at once withdrawn and cancelled, and books of tickets in the new form provided and forwarded without delay to all persons entitled to issue tickets.

In connexion with this subject it will be observed that it is required (Art. 21, ii.) that the tickets shall be preserved for at least two years, and that the Medical Officer shall mark on each ticket, before filing it, the number of the case in the register. It has also been deemed advisable, in order to guard against an abuse which has been found to exist in some districts, to provide by regulation (Art. 21, iii.), that the medical officer shall not afford medicine or medical appliances, except in urgent cases, before a ticket has been presented.

3. The new form of Medical Relief Register (Form F), though not hitherto prescribed under Seal, was issued with the Commissioners' Circular of the 18th February last, and is, the Commissioners believe, very generally in use; but if there is any district in which it has not yet been adopted, the Commissioners request that it may now be at once provided, so that it may be brought into use on the 1st January, 1870.

4. The Vaccination Register (Form G) is in the same form as heretofore, and similar to the Vaccination Register required to be kept by the Registrars of Births and Deaths under the Compulsory Vaccination Act, so that where the Dispensary Medical Officer is also registrar the two books can be made to supplement each other, the only entries required to be made in the Form G being those of cases (which will now be very rare) which do not come under the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act, that is, the cases of persons who were born before the 1st January, 1864. The Form H, which has hitherto been merely a copy of the entries in the two vaccination registers above referred to, is now required to be, in conformity with the Act of Parliament, a report of the number of persons vaccinated, with a certificate from the Medical Officer of the fact of his having duly vaccinated and inspected all the persons who have been registered as vaccinated within the period to which the certificate applies. This will save a considerable amount of labour to the Medical Officer, while, at the same time, as the vaccination register is required by Art. 21, x., to be open at all reasonable times to inspection by members of the Board of Guardians and the Dispensary Committee, there will be ample opportunity for examining the register as to individual cases.

5. Form I (Medical Officer's Report Book) has been slightly modified, and is intended to contain a record of the Medical Officer's attendances at the dispensary, and of any matter which he may think it necessary to bring under the notice of the committee.

6. Form L (Medical Officer's Quarterly Return) has been very slightly altered, and it will be seen by Art. 21, xiv. that he is to forward it to the Commissioners immediately after the close of the quarter, and to lay a copy of it before the committee at their next ordinary meeting. This course will prevent the inconvenience which has sometimes arisen from delaying the return until it had been submitted to the committee, while the committee will have the information before them at as early a period as under the former regulation.

7. In regard to the estimate for medicines, serious inconvenience has sometimes arisen, where, owing to irregular meetings on the part of the committee, the Medical Officer has been unable to obtain their approval of the estimate, before forwarding it to the Board of Guardians; an alteration has therefore been made in the regulation in this respect. The new regulation (Art. 21, vi.), while it maintains the existing practice, as a general rule, of forwarding the estimate to the Board of Guardians through the committee, authorizes the Medical Officer in cases of urgency to forward his estimate direct to the Board of Guardians.

8. With a view to the more effectual carrying out of the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act, the Medical Officer is required (Art. 21, xi.) to forward half-yearly to the Board of Guardians a report in the Form P annexed to the order of all persons registered as born in the district who are over six months of age, and do not appear to have been vaccinated. This will enable the Board of Guardians to exercise a more effectual control in regard to the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act, by taking proceedings against any person responsible for having a child vaccinated who shall be found to have wilfully neglected to do so.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.
